Hundreds Of Men, Machines Busy As Fraser Hits Peak

River Now At Level Of 1948 Disaster, But Dikes Holding

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Fraser River was at its disastrous 1948 level today and hundreds of men and machines were thrown into the crucial battle of the dikes.

When the river surged to this level two years ago, dikes were crumbling all along the valley and the $20,000,000 flood disaster reached its climax.

Continued pressure on the dikes could mean serious trouble, Bruce Dixon, Fraser Valley dike commissioner, said.

The word today from all parts of the valley, however, was "the dikes are holding." But local authorities diverted every available man, truck, steam shovel and bulldozer to danger spots along the thin brown line of clay dikes that stand between the flooding river and 50,000 residents.

Plenty of labor was available for dike work. More than 1,000 men were out of work because 16 lumber mills had been forced to close down.

The valley, stretching 100 miles to the east of Vancouver, needed all available manpower and equipment to reinforce the $13,000,000 worth of dikes erected after the disastrous 1948 floods.

2,000 REFUGEES
The number of flood refugees today stood at nearly 2,000. Most were from Fraser Valley centres, while others lived in tent cities above the evacuated towns of Minto in central British Columbia and Uak and Doreen in the north.

The weatherman forecast temperatures in the 90's again tomorrow, but said a cold front out of the Gulf of Alaska may bring cooler weather and aid flood fighters.

Light showers were forecast for tomorrow, although they were not expected to be enough to soften dikes.

Hardest hit community in the valley was the famed spa Harrison Springs, about 70 miles east of Vancouver. A $1,000,000 reconstruction job on the hotel recently completed was partially ruined by flood waters from Harrison Lake. Most of the town was under four feet of lake water, and Town Commissioner Col. A. N. Naismith abandoned his official car in favor of a small motorboat.

REFUSE TO MOVE
The Canadian army called in to help at Harrison, asked the 500 resident to evacuate the town, but many refused to desert their homes.

"They've got plenty of guts," said Col. Naismith.

The lake rose only four inches in 12 hours Monday night, and the Lillooet River which feeds Harrison Lake from the north dropped 10 inches.

The Fraser River had dropped at Prince George and was one inch below its 1950 high of 24.04 feet.

Fears Unemployment
PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP)—C.I.O. President Philip Murray forecast a return to the "dire days of the early '30's" if the present "jobless trend" in the United States continues. Murray, dedicating a $100,000 building for C.I.O. steel workers Monday, said: "Before we put new machines into service, we must provide new jobs for displaced employees."

Six European Nations Meet On Pool Plan

PARIS (AP)—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France today told delegates from six western European countries, assembled here to plan a merger of their coal and steel industries, that "we feel we will not be permitted to fail or quit without finishing our job."

The conference which Schuman opened in the Foreign Ministry Salle de l'Horloge (Clock Room), was historic, he said, because never before had the west European states delegated a "fraction of their sovereignty to an independent, supra-national authority."

Urging his proposal to put western Europe's coal and steel industries under control of an international body empowered to make binding decisions, Schuman said the countries must find means "outside our national limits" to create a more rational economic structure, to cheapen production and to open new markets.

Schuman expressed a hope that Britain later would join the pool.

Chiang Planes Destroy Big Red Airfield

TAIPAI, Formosa (CP)—Nationalist air headquarters announced today Chinese planes destroyed the Communist airfield and installations at Fochow, capital of Fukien province.

Fochow is 100 miles northeast of Formosa, base of the Nationalist forces.

The air announcement said the plane was one of the most strategically located airports in China for support of a seaborne invasion of Formosa.

Meanwhile, President Chiang Kai-shek appealed to Chinese living in other countries to rally to the cause of democracy and fight communism.

Chiang said that, as in the war with Japan, China is bearing the brunt of the first attack of the Third World War.

Hopes For Settlement Of Milk Strike In West Pennsylvania

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mayor David Lawrence today held out hope for settlement of a milk strike that has virtually shut off dairy supplies to seven western Pennsylvania counties for the last 11 days.

After a meeting of company and union officials had broken up early today, Mayor Lawrence said: "They are surprisingly close together."

Some 3,000 striking dairy workers demand a 40-hour, five-day work week, rather than the present 48-hour, six-day week, with no reduction in pay.

The milk dealers offered 48 hours pay for a five and a half-day, 44-hour week.

The union also demanded a daily minimum of $13.50 for driver-salesmen rather than the present $10. The dealers offered to raise the minimum to $11.

Meanwhile, farmers continued to dump milk they are unable to sell to city dwellers—many of whom have been driving into the country to obtain dairy products.

Acheson Tells Governors Truman Program To Work

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (UP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today President Truman's four-point program will be a powerful weapon against Communism, especially in Asia.

In an address here at the 42nd annual Governors' Conference he said the plan for technical aid to backward areas is no philanthropy and warrants bi-partisan support.

Luckily, he said, both Republicans and Democrats generally have accepted the plan. The few critics, he added, contradict themselves and attack the program "not on its merits, but on a narrow isolationist basis."

Terrorist Bands Barred In Japan

TOKYO (Reuters)—The Attorney-General's office today ordered seven "terrorist" organizations throughout the country to be disbanded.

Fourteen executive offices of these organizations were purged from public office.

The Attorney-General's office said these organizations, formed on a "boss and henchman" basis, threatened the peaceful daily life of the ordinary people, conducting gang warfare.

One, the Shin Nippon Seinen (New Japan Youth Party), was carrying on terrorist activities under the cloak of anti-Communism, it was stated.

Burt said the union demands, with the exception of the shorter week, all were contained in the five-year contract granted to G.M. workers in the United States earlier this year.

Concerning shorter hours, Burt said the union would accept a gradual reduction over a five-year period if a contract was signed for that length of time.

Want Evidence

Police say Dixon was injured when he drove his cycle off the road to avoid a collision with an unidentified car.

LUMBER UP $26 PER M. IN VICTORIA

Market In U.S. Reason Given For Increase

Lumber prices today soared to new heights in Victoria.

Retail price of common lumber climbed to $96 per thousand square feet, a $26 boost; while cedar shingles No. 1 rose $2.75, bringing the retail selling price of shingles to $14.50 a square foot.

Lumber merchants said the increase was due to the current U.S. market. They said the price boost had nothing to do with the 12-cent-an-hour increase awarded British Columbia lumber workers.

At the same time, building suppliers said they anticipated a price boost on all types of roofing material in view of a price increase on roofing material in eastern Canada.

Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. reported their prices so far were unchanged for their roofing materials.

Lumbermen said the $26 increase on common lumber applied to No. 1, 2 and grades of lumber. They also said finished lumber and flooring would be up approximately $3 a square.

The price hike on shingles, which formerly sold for $12.75 a square, was anticipated some weeks ago, according to lumbermen.

CONTRACTORS ALARMED
Contractors viewed the price increase on lumber with alarm and contended that it would have a widespread effect on private building.

One contractor estimated that it would mean an additional $440 tacked onto the selling price of a five-room bungalow. This meant an $8,000 house would cost approximately $8,500 or more, depending on the quality of materials used.

The price increase on lumber was announced following a meeting of lumbermen Monday night.

Lumber operators pointed out that U.S. buyers were offering higher prices for Canadian lumber and they saw no reason why domestic prices should be kept below export prices.

They said the price boost would make larger quantities available on the local market.

Two-Year-Old Drowns In Sudden Flood
RICH, Ky. (AP)—Two-year-old Bobby Blevins was drowned in a sudden flood here Monday and a cloudburst and tornado winds caused extensive damage and forced residents from their homes in eastern and central Kentucky.

A 45-minute cloudburst dumped 3.75 inches of rain on West Morehead, spilling two creeks into an estimated 45 homes. The waters reached four feet in some sections of the city.

MORRIS, MAN, COMING BACK
Great Lake That Covered Town Now Puddles; 500 Folk Return

MORRIS, Man. (CP)—Puddles are all that remain of a great lake which once coursed eight feet deep through Morris, the southern Manitoba town worst hit by the Red River's monthly flood.

Flood waters, which forced the 1,100 residents to flee, have gone down. But their grip on the 500 who so far have come back is almost complete.

The entire town, 41 miles south of Winnipeg—once the heart of a lake measuring 60 by 25 miles—is strewn with debris. Every house and building has been hit.

Some have vanished. Many have been destroyed. Dozens are beyond repair.

Vancouver Ship Tells Of Red Sea Disaster

SUEZ (CP)—The British freighter Indian Enterprise exploded and sank in the Red Sea late Monday night and 72 crew members are missing, agents for the vessel announced today.

Only one member of the crew, an injured man, was rescued after a blast that tore the ship apart about 300 miles south of Suez. Spokesman for the agents said the 7,100-ton ship, en route from London to Indian ports, was carrying 880 tons of explosives consigned to the Indian government.

The vessel, which carried no passengers, was officered by Britons. The crew members were mostly Laskars.

The sole survivor is said to have been a Laskar seaman, picked up by the Norwegian tanker H. Westfal-Larsen, which is en route to Suez.

First report of the explosion came from the 7,161-ton steamship Lake Chilliwack of Vancouver, which said she was going to the scene and called on all ships in the vicinity to keep a sharp lookout for survivors.

Other ships were in the area, and 250 miles away was the British destroyer Chequers with the Duke of Edinburgh aboard as first lieutenant.

It was believed the explosion occurred at 11:30 o'clock local time Monday night.

REPORT RESCUES
CAIRO (Reuters)—Rescue ships were reported today to have picked up some survivors from the British freighter Indian Enterprise which exploded and sank in the Red Sea. She was said to carry at least 74 persons.

Lloyd's Register lists the Indian Enterprise at 7,319 tons, owned by the India Steamship Company Ltd., and registered from Sunderland, Eng.

The 7,161-ton steamship Lake Chilliwack of Vancouver, near the scene of the explosion, radioed:

"Survivors alive but some burned on hands and back and screaming."

Another ship, the Lefca, radioed:

"Have picked up one survivor. Am searching area thoroughly but there is no further sign of life. Proceeding north."

Injured Woman's Condition Fair
The worst injured of six persons in Sunday evening's violent three-car crash on the West Coast Road near Sooke, Mrs. Donald E. Tomlinson, Jordan River, was reported today as having spent a fair night in Jubilee Hospital.

Her physician would not specify her injuries, but they are believed to be head wounds. They are of a serious nature.

Dal Elder, Sooke, of the Elder Logging Company, driver of a new Packard sedan involved in the pile-up which caused more than $3,000 damage, was reported as in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The other four persons suffered minor injuries.

JUDY GARLAND

Singing Star, Distraught, Cuts Throat

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Judy Garland cut her throat in a fit of anguish, her studio disclosed today. The wound is not serious.

After Miss Garland's husband, Vincent Minelli, earlier had denied such a report, Ralph Wheelwright, studio publicity aide, made the following statement to reporters who gathered at the distraught actress' palatial pink mansion on Sunset Boulevard:

"Miss Garland was in conference last night at about 6 o'clock at 8850 Lantana Drive (another house of Miss Garland's), with her husband, Vincent Minelli, her business manager, Carlton Alson, and her secretary, Myrtle Tully. They were discussing Miss Garland's future. At one point in the discussion, Miss Garland, who has been under strain and ill, became very despondent and hysterical and rushed from the living-room through the bedroom and into the bathroom, locking the door behind her. She broke a drinking glass and with the broken glass made a superficial laceration on her throat.

"Minelli got her to open the door and she was immediately very repentant and weeping. They sent for Dr. Francis Ballard, who treated the wound. He said it was very minor and attributed it to an impulsive, hysterical act.

"Miss Garland is now resting under her doctor's care. She is asleep. I saw her and she has a slight bandage on her neck. No stitches were taken.

"She is not to be disturbed and no pictures will be taken.

"The 27-year-old Judy was suspended by M-G-M last week for failing to report on a picture. Friends said she took the news badly. It was the climax of long troubles with the studio.

P.G.E. May Repair Rails By Friday

P.G.E. Railway crews are working at top speed to repair flood-damaged rails in the Mile 70, Birkenhead River area, and service may be restored Friday.

"If it isn't Friday it should be Sunday," a government railway department official stated.

A large log jam is the main trouble-maker and dynamiting is being carried out while the water level of the swollen river was reported dropping.

LONDON (Reuter)—Seven cases of infantile paralysis were reported in the London area today. Official returns for the week ended June 10 showed there were 79 cases in England and Wales, the highest weekly total recorded thus far this year.

5-ROOM BUNGALOW UP $1,759 MORE THAN IN '46

With the increased price of lumber which went into effect today, it is estimated that building cost for an average five-room dwelling has gone up $1,759 since Sept. 15, 1946.

Cost of a five-room bungalow in 1946 was $6,067; 1947-48, $7,159; 1949, $7,216, and 1950, $7,826.

The same bungalow in 1939 cost $3,600.

The biggest increase on the cost of a home since the end of the war occurred in September, 1946, when the price jumped over $1,000.

CROPS IN ALBERTA HURT BY DROUGHT

Growth In Saskatchewan Generally Good; Much Moisture In Manitoba Aids Wheat

OTTAWA (CP)—Crop growth in Saskatchewan has been "generally satisfactory," but conditions in Alberta remain "very dry," the Bureau of Statistics reported today in a periodic summary of prairie crop conditions.

In Manitoba, moisture ranges from ample to excessive and all seeded crops, hay and pastures are growing rapidly. Some seeding still is being done in areas where heavy rains and flooding delayed operations.

Recent rains and warmer weather have produced favorable growth in Saskatchewan. Moisture conditions are favorable in the southern and south-central districts but elsewhere rainfall has been light and is needed in parts of southwestern, central, west-central and northern regions.

Wheat stands in Saskatchewan average five inches in height, with coarse grains about four inches above ground. Wireworm damage to crop is reported to be severe in open prairie areas while grasshoppers are continuing to hatch in all forecast areas.

Little or no relief from drought has occurred in Alberta. Moisture conditions still are good in the extreme southwest and some rain fell in the southeast corner, but the province as a whole is "very dry."

Crops are holding in fair condition in most areas, except in central and south-central sections. Fall rye is beginning to head in the south and some early fields of wheat are in the shot blade.

Hay crops and pastures are poor in central Alberta, but fair to good in other regions.

The Manitoba crop outlook is "promising." Growth of crops and hay and pastures has been rapid during the last week. Grasshoppers are hatching freely on lighter soils on both sides of the Red River, but control operations are under way.

Union Rebel Wants Aid To Appeal Suit

VANCOUVER (CP)—Myron Kuzych is seeking leave of the Supreme Court of Canada to appeal in forma pauperis from a judgment freeing two officials of the Marine Workers and Boilermakers industrial union who had been committed to prison for contempt of court.

The union officials, president W. L. Wright and secretary W. A. Stewart, successfully appealed the committal order, issued after they were found in contempt for failing to obey a court order to reinstate Kuzych.

A. W. Johnson, counsel for Kuzych, has applied to the Court of Appeal to settle the court's judgment in such a way that Kuzych will not have to pay costs of the committal appeal.

These costs have not been taxed. But they could exceed $1,200.

Hailstones Ten Inches In Circumference

FORT FRANCES, Ont. (CP)—Residents of North Burris, 20 miles northwest of here, reported today that hailstones "nine and 10 inches in circumference" fell Monday night in a brief, fierce storm.

Mrs. M. Galloway said in a letter to radio station CKFT here that the stones would not go into a quart fruit jar. She said she gathered two milk pails full to use in her ice-cream freezer.

C. Benson, a Fort Frances commercial traveler, reported the stones smashed farmhouse and automobile windows and dented radiator hoods.

Four Bodies In Wreck Of Indiana Plane

LEBANON, Ind. (UP)—Four bodies, including those of a woman and a child, were found today in the wreckage of a plane which had crashed in a clover field.

Farmer Claude Armstrong discovered the wreckage of the small Aeromac, as he put his cows to pasture in the six-acre field behind his barn.

Boone County coroner Clancy Bassett identified the dead as Clinton Edward Ferguson, 30; his wife, Marcia, her son by a former marriage, Ronald Partridge, 9, and Robert Lahr, the pilot. All were from Lafayette, Ind.

Clarence Stoner, who lives about a mile from the crash scene, said he heard a sound like a plane engine about midnight. He thought the plane was in trouble.

Police said the bodies were mangled. State police said the plane took off from the airport at Lafayette, Ind.

Hundreds Hurt, 17 Killed By Quake In Java

JAKARTA, Indonesia (Reuter)—Seventeen persons were killed and many hundreds injured today in an earthquake in east Java, Aneta, the Dutch news agency, reported.

The agency reported from Surabaya on the eastern tip of the island, that the earth shivered for as long as a minute in some places.

The quake was described as the worst in 50 years.

Janitor Or Sanitor?

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Janitors should be given a more morale and thereby get more efficient work out of them, an industrial hygiene conference was told today.

Mohe H. Solworth, industrial sanitation counsellor from Louisville, Ky., suggested a new title, "sanitor."

Consider Fishermen For Unemployment Insurance

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is studying the question of bringing fishermen under unemployment insurance coverage. Labor Minister Mitchell informed the Commons today.

He was replying to a question from W. J. Browne (P.C.-St. John's West), who wanted to know what the government was doing to give fishermen the same protection enjoyed by shore workers in fish plants.

Mr. Mitchell also said the government was negotiating with the United States authorities on extending unemployment

3 Weeks Show 66,200 Drop In Unemployed

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell told the Commons today that the unemployed in Canada totaled 239,800 on June 8.

(This compared with a May 18 figure of 306,000 persons registered for work with National Unemployment Service.)

The June 8 total was down 198,000 from the March peak of unemployment, Mr. Mitchell told the House during discussion of his department's annual estimates.

The minister, in an exchange with Clive Gillis (C.C.F.-Cape Breton South), also said the unemployment total for the Maritimes on June 8 was 30,000.

Mr. Gillis complained the labor department was not issuing employment information often enough. He said the last figures had been issued May 18, with the result that Commons members were at a disadvantage in debating the situation.

It was on this basis that he had stated in the House Monday night that Maritime unemployment was 57,000.

Mr. Gillis urged that the labor department help provide unemployment relief for areas with chronic unemployment, or extend supplementary unemployment insurance benefits to those sections.

Two Dikes Collapse; Create New Emergency

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Two dikes collapsed and others developed serious leaks in the Fraser Valley today as the first drowning of the 1950 flood was reported.

A state of emergency has been declared at Harrison Mills, 55 miles east of Vancouver, where the Fraser River collapsed part of a dike. Two hundred volunteers, soldiers and 40 dump trucks were throwing "half the mountainside" into the collapsed part to bolster the dike, a flood emergency committee official said. "Our whole valley housing about 200 people will be gone if the water comes through. Part of it has collapsed and the rest is like jelly."

A private dike facing Pitt Lake was broken and floodwaters surged through 6,500 acres of farmland 20 miles east of Vancouver.

Missing and presumed drowned as the first victim of the Fraser Valley floods of 1950 was eight-year-old Paul Dussault, who fell off a log in the swirling Fraser River tributary Silverdale Creek, 40 miles east of Vancouver.

AT 1948 LEVEL

The river was at its disastrous 1948 level today and hundreds of men and machines were thrown into the crucial battle of the dikes.

When the river surged to this level two years ago, dikes were crumbling all along the valley and the $20,000,000 flood disaster reached its climax.

But local authorities diverted every available man, truck, steam shovel and bulldozer to danger spots along the thin brown line of clay dikes that stand between the flooding river and 50,000 residents.

Plenty of labor was available for dike work. More than 1,000 men were out of work because 16 lumber mills had been forced to close down.

The valley, stretching 100 miles to the east of Vancouver, needed all available manpower and equipment to reinforce the $13,000,000 worth of dikes erected after the disastrous 1948 floods.

2,000 REFUGEES

The number of flood refugees today stood at nearly 2,000. Most were from Fraser Valley centres, while others lived in tent cities above the evacuated towns of Minto in central British Columbia and Usk and Doreen in the north.

The weatherman forecast temperatures in the 90's again for tomorrow, but said a cold front out of the Gulf of Alaska may bring cooler weather and aid flood fighters.

Chiang Planes Destroy Big Red Airfield

TAIPAI, Formosa (CP)—Nationalist air headquarters announced today Chinese planes destroyed the Communist airfield and installations at Foochow, capital of Fukien province.

Foochow is 100 miles northeast of Formosa, base of the Nationalist forces.

The air announcement said the field was one of the most strategically located airports in China for support of a seaborne invasion of Formosa.

Meanwhile, President Chiang Kai-shek appealed to Chinese living in other countries to rally to the cause of democracy and fight communism.

Chiang said that, as in the war with Japan, China is bearing the brunt of the first attack of the Third World War.

CANADA, U.S. WOULD ASK SAFEGUARDS IN NEW POOL

LONDON (Reuter)—Lord Strabolgi, a Labor peer, said today there was no reason why the United States and Canada, as well as Britain, should not join the Schuman plan if certain safeguards were provided.

Britain would want assurances that:

1. There would be expansion and restriction.
2. Lower wages on the continent would be raised to British levels.

"Otherwise," he told a London Labor Party group, "we would have the evils of an old-fashioned cartel."

The Labor Party and government are prepared to work with any foreign governments, whatever their political complexion, so long as their policy is broadly the same as ours, namely, increasing production, full employment and the defence of labor standards.

City Opposes Earmarking Of Sales Tax

A suggested proposal to earmark the municipalities' one-third share of the social security and municipal aid tax specifically for education purposes, was opposed by Mayor Percy George today in a brief submitted to Premier Byron Johnson and members of the executive council.

Education Minister W. T. Straith was reported considering such a proposal.

Mayor George contended absence of any direction in the Social Security and Municipal Aid Tax Act, and the Municipal Aid Act, 1948, implied that aid to municipalities was given for general purposes and not earmarked for any specific account.

WOULD INCREASE RATE

If the suggested proposal were implemented, he said, that while it would make no difference in the total amount of taxes required to be raised by municipalities, "it would have the effect of reducing the levy for school purposes and correspondingly increasing the levy for general purposes."

"The effect of the minister's proposal would be to increase our general rate to over 30 mills," the brief stated. "This is dangerously close to the limit of 35 mills allowed for general purposes, keeping in mind the continual demand for additional municipal services."

"It is quite conceivable that in some municipalities it would be impossible to operate within the 35-mill limit."

"PERTURBING" EFFECT

The mayor felt the proposal would have a perturbing psychological effect, in that costs of education borne by the province in some municipalities would appear to be over 90 per centum and the municipality's share 10 per centum.

There would be grave danger of the opportunity being seized for proposals to increase salaries unduly and purchase unnecessary and costly equipment, on the grounds that the municipality's share of costs was negligible, the brief continued.

"In point of fact, as long as the present formula for computing government grants obtains, any increase would fall on the municipal taxpayer alone," Mayor George said.

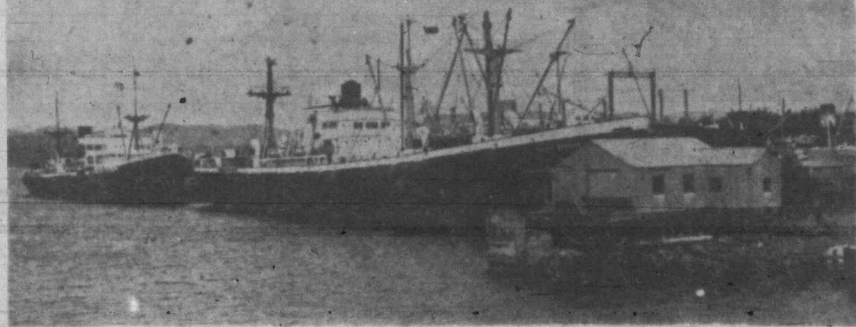

Injured Woman's Condition Fair

The worst injured of six persons in Sunday evening's violent three-car crash on the West Coast Road near Sooke, Mrs. Donald E. Tomlinson, Jordan River, was reported today as having spent a fair night in Jubilee Hospital.

Six Seamen Saved As Craft Explodes

Fishboat Rescues Crew Members
As $100,000 Vessel Burns, Sinks

PRINCE RUPERT (BUP)—A six-man crew was rescued as a burning tug exploded, burned and sank in Hecate Strait, near Prince Rupert, Monday.

Destroyed by fire and sunk was the 66-foot, 230 h.p. tug Norah Jane, operated by Kingcome Navigation Co. of Vancouver. Owned by Queen Charlotte Salvage and Towing Co., the Norah Jane was valued at $100,000.

Rescued by a passing fishing vessel, Sandy S., were: Captain S. Gordon MacKenzie, Vancouver; Mate Francis Macdonnell; W. R. McKinnon, chief engineer; O. Nocente, second engineer; Frank Schwahn, deck hand, and William Cooper, cook.

The skipper and his five crewmen were taken aboard the fishing vessel Sandy S. 31 miles west of Prince Rupert in Hecate Strait, and taken to Rupert last night.

The R.C.A.F. in Vancouver was notified by Digby Island radio that the six-man crew had been taken off the Norah Jane and that the tug had burned and sank at 3:51 p.m. Monday.

Serving Powell River, the Norah Jane was on her way to Masset in the Queen Charlottes from Powell River when she blew up and burned. The tug was completely wrecked by the blast, origin of which was not immediately known.

Captain MacKenzie and the crewmen slipped into life preservers and leaped into the water. A few minutes later they were picked up by R. C. Good, Prince Rupert, skipper of the Sandy S.

Police Commissioner, Veteran, Dies In Oak Bay, Aged 65

A veteran of the First World War and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, A. H. L. Mellor, 1931 Hampshire Road, died Monday in Royal Jubilee Hospital at the age of 65, following a brief illness.

He was serving his fourth year as a police commissioner in Oak Bay.

Mr. Mellor, who came to Canada from England in his youth, had a long and distinguished record of service with the R.C.M.P. He rose to the rank of superintendent in 1935, and was at one time assistant director of criminal investigation for the national police body.

In the First World War he served with the R.C.M.P. Calgary draft in France and Germany.

Mr. Mellor came to Victoria in 1938.

Wife Thrown Out Of Car

A husband-wife tussle in a parked car on Johnson Street during the week-end resulted in the wife being thrown out of the vehicle. City police took her to Royal Jubilee Hospital, where she was treated for bruises to the neck, shoulder and knees.

Want Old Building Off Play Field

Thirty-nine persons signed a Burnside P.T.A. petition asking that city-owned property at 3038 Douglas Street be cleared of the condemned dwelling now standing on it, for extension of Burnside playground.

Mrs. Beverly Baker, secretary, in a covering letter, said the P.T.A. started the playground and spent much money, time and effort to make the area a suitable park for children.

"With the removal of the house, the play area would then be suitable for the playing of all sports, but more particularly the playing of baseball," the petition read.

Community Of Daily Life Said Strongest Bond

The community of our daily life is the strongest tie binding Canada and the U.S., said Victor De Tullio of San Jose, Calif., who installed officers of the Royal Arcanum at the 48th annual convention of the B.C. Washington and Oregon sections here.

"Not only are our democratic convictions and aspirations similar, but we pursue them in a common, democratic manner," Mr. De Tullio, deputy supreme regent, said.

He installed William Jones of Victoria as grand regent of the Arcanums. D. W. Spence will be supreme representative at the biennial sessions at Atlantic City, New Jersey, in September.

Aged Citizens Begin Holiday At Sooke Camp

Start of a happy 10-day holiday was made by 55 Victoria senior citizens, when they boarded a chartered bus at Vancouver Island Coach Lines Depot this afternoon for Sunshine Camp, Sooke, sponsored by Family Welfare and Children's Aid Society.

Chosen from Old Age Pensioners' Association and Aged Men's and Women's Homes, they are the first of several groups to enjoy a holiday at the camp.

At Sooke, the vacationers are forming a committee to plan a program of activities, under direction of Jan Flemming. The latter will be assisted by Doreen Woods, Nora Mayne, Janet Bartholemew, Doreen and Anabelle Keane.

When the senior citizens complete their holiday, a children's camp will be held from July 3 to 13. The group is limited to boys from 6 to 10 years of age and girls from 6 to 12.

A camp will be held July 15 to 25 for members of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind and July 28 to August 7 for a mothers' and children's group.

A third camp from August 9 to 19 is open to all ages and sexes.

REFUSE REQUEST

Application of John E. Russell, 1190 Rock Street, for permission to convert a dwelling into apartments, was refused by Saanich Council Monday night. Council will tell the zoning board that there has been considerable objection raised in the area to converting a single-family dwelling into apartments.

Arthritis Fund Nears Objective

More than $10,000 of a $12,500 objective has been collected by the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society fund drive. Eric Wainwright, campaign manager, said Monday he expected to go over the $12,500 objective.

The campaign opened early in May and officially closed at the end of last month, but several canvass areas still are turning in money to the fund.

Scenes Recall Great 1948 Fraser Flood

Hundreds of men and machines were in action along the flooded Fraser River today in the battle to prevent overflows which would damage farm and other properties. This was a scene near Agassiz, 65 miles east of Vancouver, as army engineers sandbagged a dike holding waters back from town and nearby farmlands.

MORRIS, MAN., COMING BACK

Great Lake That Covered Town Now Puddles; 500 Folk Return

MORRIS, Man. (CP)—Puddles are all that remain of a great lake which once covered eight feet deep through Morris, the southern Manitoba town worst hit by the Red River's month-long flood.

Flood waters, which forced the 1,100 residents to flee, have gone down. But their grip on the 500 who so far have come back is almost complete.

The entire town, 41 miles south of Winnipeg—once the heart of a lake measuring 60 by 25 miles—is strewn with debris. Every house and building has been hit. Some have vanished. Many have been destroyed. Dozens are beyond repair.

Outside the town the fields sprout, acres of muddy water, debris and bloated carcasses of cattle and hogs. At one spot along the rail line the shrivelled corpse of a lamb is pinned to a barbed-wire fence.

Main street looks like a run-down auction yard. Furniture, store stocks, vehicles, barber chairs, radios and business records are piled in the street. Only two grocery stores, quickly rehabilitated to stock needed food, are operating. One drug store sells its new stock of merchandise from a granary on the main road.

Everyone is busy, everyone is cheerful. Only a few houses have been declared fit for occupancy, but the returnees, including many children, crowd into second-story quarters, the courthouse, a public hall and any available space. Meals are served from the court house, six trailers and a railway diner.

Power is back in a few houses. Water for drinking comes from Winnipeg by railway tank car; for other purposes it is purified Red River water.

Pooling Expected To End French-German Hatred

PARIS (UP)—Foreign Minister Robert Schuman opened a conference on the pooling of Western Europe's coal and steel industries today with a prediction that the scheme would end the traditional hatred between France and Germany.

Schuman, author of the pooling plan, was the only speaker at the first session of delegates of six nations meeting to put it into effect.

The six delegations gathered around a U-shaped green table in the gilt and white Clock Salon of the French foreign office. About 200 spectators and newsmen heard Schuman's brief speech.

"The chief characteristic of the French proposal is that, aside from its economic importance, it is susceptible to developments which at the present moment cannot be guessed at," Schuman said.

"It has had and preserved a political value which from the very first moment struck opinion in different countries more sharply than anything else."

"We wish to substitute for the ancient practices of dumping and discrimination an enlightened co-operation. That is essential. But what is equally important, and what from the very beginning has been ascribed in the forefront of the plan, is our determination to associate in a joint and permanent task of peace two nations that for centuries have been opposed in bloody competition."

"It is a certainty of thus eradicating from our European community a latent cause of trouble, of mistrust and anguish. It is a hope of erecting on this peaceful co-operation a solid European structure, accessible to all nations of good will."

Strong Weapon Against Sovietism

Acheson Tells State Governors Truman Program Will Succeed

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (UP)—Secretary of State Dean Acheson said today President Truman's four-point program will be a powerful weapon against Communism, especially in Asia.

In an address here at the 42nd annual Governors' Conference he said the plan for technical aid to backward areas is no philanthropy and warrants bi-partisan support.

Slack Taken To Prison In Tennessee

UTICA, N.Y. (UP)—Alfred D. Slack, 44-year-old chemist accused of wartime espionage, left the Onondaga County jail today under heavy guard for Knoxville, Tenn., to await action by a federal grand jury.

Slack, appearing calm and resigned, was handcuffed to two deputy marshals. Chief Deputy Marshal Clarence Doll accompanied Slack on the trip.

Federal officials refused to say how the trip would be made, but said they expected to have Slack in Knoxville by Thursday night.

Slack, accused of passing vital defence information to agents of a widespread Soviet spy ring, waived a formal hearing.

G.M. Workers Ask Pay Jump Better Hours

TORONTO (UP)—The United Auto Workers of America (C.I.O.) today revealed its wage, hour and pensions demands on General Motors Corporation, the only member of Canada's "Big Three" auto manufacturers without a contract.

George Burt, Canadian director of the union, said the U.A.W. wanted 19 cents an hour wage increase immediately for G.M.'s 8,000 employees, a 40-hour work week, $100 monthly pensions, and a hospital-medical insurance scheme.

Contract negotiations between the union and company were deadlocked, and representatives of both sides flew here from Oshawa, Ont., Monday in an effort to renew them. The U.A.W. contract with G.M. expired Monday.

Burt said the U.A.W. demands, with the exception of the shorter week, all were contained in the five-year contract granted to G.M. workers in the United States earlier this year.

Concerning shorter hours, Burt said the union would accept a gradual reduction over a five-year period if a contract was signed for that length of time.

5 West Coast Cities Still Without Bread

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Empty bread shelves confronted housewives in five west coast cities again today, with no signs of a settlement in a strike of 3,100 A.F.L. bakers, now in its second day.

An industry spokesman in Los Angeles, where 1,800 makers are idle, said: "The strike can go on for months if the union insists on a 35-hour week." The union was still insisting.

The affected bakeries produce about 90 per cent of the bread sold in Los Angeles, Portland, Ore.; Seattle, Everett and Bremerton, Wash. The strikes, called Saturday night, have cut off bread supplies to grocery stores.

The Seattle area's 70 strike-bound plants are suing Local No. 9 of the Bakers' Union for $20,000-a-day damages. The companies accuse the union of breaking its contract by not giving 60 days' notice of contract termination.

COMMUNITY LIFE

He said the program "deals with the fundamental problems of community life—health, sanitation and agriculture." It has been "shaken by its heels," he said, "in an effort to find in it sinister implications of philanthropy."

Acheson said there have been nine postwar governments formed in nations bordering Russia or Soviet-dominated China with a total population of 600,000,000 persons.

Fears Unemployment

PORTSMOUTH, O. (AP)—C.I.O. President Philip Murray forecast a return to the "dire days of the early '30s" if the present "jobless trend" in the United States continues. Murray, dedicating a $100,000 building for C.I.O. steel workers Monday, said: "Before we put new machines into service, we must provide new jobs for displaced employees."

Popularity Unimpaired

NOT A VERY GREAT DEAL NEED be said about the results of the three federal contests fought yesterday beyond the fact that the Progressive Conservatives won back Annapolis-Kings—which they won in a by-election in December, 1948, and lost by five votes in the general election last year—and the Liberals scored easy victories in Halifax and the Cartier division of Montreal. With all the vacancies now filled in the House of Commons, the standing of the parties is as follows: Liberals 188, Progressive Conservatives 43, C.C.F. 13, Social Credit 10, Independents 5, Independent Liberals 3; total 262.

The vacancy in Annapolis-Kings was occasioned by the nullification of the apparent victory of Mr. Angus Elderkin in 1949 when some servicemen cast ballots who were not entitled to under the provisions of the Elections Act. This is one of the Nova Scotia ridings, incidentally, in which former Finance Minister Isley rolled up such huge majorities in 1935, 1940 and 1945. In view of the by-election verdict in December, 1948, and the split-hair abortive decision last June, however, it was not surprising that the National President of the Progressive Conservative Party, Mr. George Nowlan, should have headed the poll with a comfortable margin.

It was a different story in the other two battles. Mr. Leon D. Crestohl, carrying the Liberal banner in Montreal-Cartier, had an easy time of it in a four-way fight, rolling up 9,701 votes against his nearest opponent's—a Labor-Progressive—3,907, the Progressive Conservative's 2,836 and the C.C.F. nominee's 1,461. The Progressive Conservative in the two-seat Halifax riding had polled about half the votes recorded by Mr. Samuel Balcom, the Liberal winner, while the C.C.F.'er trailed much farther behind as the count was being completed.

If there is anything to be read into the results of these contests, therefore, it is that the popularity of the St. Laurent government has not waned in the slightest degree since the electorate endorsed it in such an emphatic manner a year ago.

A 'Yes' Vote Will Finish The Job

THIS WEEK THE GREATER VICTORIA School Board is appealing to the taxpayers of the community to guarantee the funds needed to complete its school building program. The actual amount required is $666,400. Of that the city's share is $401,705. The school board is $115,887. Oak Bay is asked to provide $100,760, Esquimalt $35,519 and View Royal $12,528.

The money must be raised to supplement the $2,000,000 approved for the new building program in 1947. The funds earmarked for building purposes three years ago are not sufficient, owing to the increase in construction costs, to carry out the plans. Moreover, when the earlier by-laws were passed, specific sums were allotted for specific schools. This means that the board cannot go ahead and build as many schools as it can for $2,000,000. The amount available for each project is not enough, but one district cannot be deprived of finance another. In other words, the board is hamstrung, and will be until the by-laws furnish the additional finances.

These buildings are needed now to relieve overcrowding and to overcome obsolescence. In addition to that, the authorities face an increase of 1,250 students in the next three years. Little more need be said on the essential character of the building program which the ratepayers have already endorsed. They are being asked now to overcome the additional hurdle which mounting construction costs in the last few years have placed in the way of its successful completion.

Qualified voters of the city and View Royal may mark their ballots on Thursday in the Market Building and in the new View Royal School respectively. Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt will conduct their votes on Saturday, Oak Bay and Esquimalt in their municipal halls, Saanich in Cedar Hill, Cloverdale, Tolmie, Gordon Head and Tillicum Schools.

A "yes" vote this week will make provision for the buildings required by Greater Victoria's children. It will also enable the authorities to finish a job under the highly advantageous arrangements whereby every municipal dollar for schools is matched by a dollar from the province.

A Dangerous Game

IT WILL BE A HAPPY TURN OF events if the two businessmen—an American and a Briton—being held in prison by Hungary are released as a result of negotiations now under way. The men were incarcerated some months ago after being declared guilty on the usual Communist charges of espionage and sabotage. The United States and Britain, seeking means of freeing their nationals—whose guilt was not proven to Western satisfaction—have been presented by Hungary with three conditions. The U.S. is therefore reported to have agreed tentatively to permit Hungary to reopen its consulates in that country (they were closed after the espionage trials in question), to release war reparations which Hungary demands from Germany, and to lift the United States' ban on American travel in the satellite country. Britain presumably has received similar demands. It is likely that, to save the two men from lengthy prison terms, some agreement will be reached.

Some Bits And Pieces

There are dangerous paths in the jungles, but none to compare with crossing a street intersection in a civilized country.

Prophecy No. 807: Just as soon as one crisis in Europe passes, another will hob up.

Uncle Sam accuses the Kremlin of displaying a "disregard for law, custom and the opinion of mankind." Otherwise there is not so much wrong with it.

The safest way to travel in the United States is up and down, says an elevator official. At least there is no misunderstanding as to who has the right of way.

Sir Richard Fairley, well-known British plane manufacturer, told an audience in London recently that Russia and her satellites are producing between 25,000 and 40,000 warplanes annually. Yet the "Red" Dean of Canterbury was trying to convince Canadian audiences that all Russia wants is peace! Strange!

The Peace Makers

By WALTER LIPPMANN

TODAY, the formal negotiations on the Schuman plan began in Paris. Italy and the Benelux countries are taking part, thus giving the project a European character. But the key countries are France and Germany. Here for the first time since the war they are negotiating as equals. Here for the first time in the long history of their rivalry they are negotiating for the purpose of making a lasting peace. They are already agreed that the only way to achieve a lasting peace is to form a lasting partnership.

It is natural to be skeptical and cautious and not to count the chickens until they are hatched. But we live in such evil times that we no longer dare to believe, for fear of being disappointed again, that anything good and peaceable and creative can be done.

BUT WE need not doubt that it is possible, even probable, that the Franco-German wars can now be concluded forever—as more than a century ago the Franco-British wars were concluded forever. In this war there was as between France and Germany no victor and no vanquished. Both the French and the Germans have known defeat and occupation. In any future war, in this epoch of atomic warfare, neither alone is big enough to play a leading part. For both the road to security and to independence and to influence is to come so close together that the European continent can rally to them and can rally around them.

THE UNITED NATIONS, the Marshall plan, the Atlantic pact, the British and the American guarantees against aggression, remain and are indispensable. But they are not enough. Europe can be saved in the end only by the Europeans, and that—the salvation of Europe—is what the Schuman plan is about.

An objective measure of the importance of the French offer and of the German agreement is that the other great powers are being compelled to clarify their position towards Europe.

THE SCHUMAN proposal, once the German government agreed to it, made it necessary for the British to decide whether in fact they are, as are France, Germany and Italy, a European country. The answer they have made is that they are not Europeans, and that they will not and cannot commit themselves to Europe. They have stood apart too long. Their attachments and their sentiments are so non-European that they cannot think and feel and act as equal and full members of a European community.

IT IS arguable that they are mistaken and that the destiny of the British Isles is now bound up with the destiny of the European continent. But the British are unable to feel that they are Europeans. And when we see the socialists objecting for socialist reasons and so many powerful anti-socialists objecting for imperial reasons it is evident that a very large, probably a preponderant, mass of the British people simply do not wish to be Europeans.

And so they will not become good Europeans if they are pushed and prodded into Europe. It is better to respect their feelings, to accept the fact that they will not participate fully, and then to hold them to the consequence of their own choice: which is that they must not intervene inside Europe in order to prevent the Europeans from uniting as closely as the Europeans deem it possible and necessary and desirable to unite.

THE SOVIET government has also made a difficult choice. It has ordered Walter Ulbricht the Soviet agent who is deputy premier of East Germany, to sign an agreement accepting the annexation by Poland of the Eastern territory. The Kremlin cannot have enjoyed doing that. For by this action it has laid aside for the time being—thrown away would be too strong a word—its ace of trumps in dealing with Germany. By closing the door so spectacularly to a revision of the frontier, the Soviet Union is committed to Poland, is committed against German national sentiment and interest, and the German Communists, who have been presenting themselves as the restorers of German unity, are placed in the unhappy position of being the agents of the dismemberment of Germany.

EXPRESSES THANKS

It is not very often that one becomes the recipient of public sympathy and generosity, but when a person does, it leaves him with an indelible impression of the inherent goodness of his fellow citizens.

Since I have had the fortunate experience of receiving this public sympathy and support, I would like to convey my heartfelt thanks to all those who have assisted me through the medium of the recent softball game held at Royal Athletic Park. I would like to thank the following organizations: Chinese Girls' Drill Team, Victoria Lions Youth Band, Victoria Fencing Club, and the Pro-Rec Club, and to all the softball fans of Victoria. I would not forget your generosity and support.

Above all, I would like to thank the officials of the Softball League and the Chinese Students' Organization in their endless efforts to help me. For what they have done I could not express my appreciation in words, but thank them all from the bottom of my heart.

MERCHANT NAVY

I am one of the many Merchant Navy Veterans now taking vocational training courses. Most of us became aware of this benefit through publicity given by the newspapers to the campaign of the Canadian Merchant Navy Veterans' Association for full rehabilitation benefits for the men of our service.

While those of us taking training are ever grateful to the press for publicizing the opportunity open to us, we feel we should also pay tribute to the officials of the C.M.N.V.A. for their efforts in getting the government to initiate this legislation.

We urge our fellow merchant navy veterans to get behind the association in its fight for pensions, hospital treatment, housing and the Veterans' Land Act. These measures are still desperately needed for the rehabilitation of the wartime merchant navy sailor.

THE FORGOTTEN WOMEN

We are composed of the widows of the First World War, with most of us being past the sunny side of life.

Losing our husbands not only deprived us of our loved one in the prime of our lives, it also took away a father and breadwinner. Today we are in the embarrassing position of being in the charity class. By this we mean that after a "means test" the city grants us an allowance of $40 a month. After we have paid rent and insurance it leaves us about $6 a day to exist on.

We have been, and still are, petitioning Minister of Pensions Gregg to render us government recognition in the form of an adequate pension. However, as you know, the machinery in Ottawa works very slowly, and by the time we receive it, if ever, most of us will have passed on.

The only way we can bring additional pressure is by increasing our membership throughout the province, for there must be hundreds of war widows in the same precarious position as we are. Membership is $1 a year. All a widow has to do is to send us details and enclose a dollar. Acknowledgement will be made by return.

HELPING HAND

This letter is written in the hope that it may be read by some retired men or others in our city, who perhaps do not play golf, possibly are not interested in a garden or other hobbies, but who would welcome an opportunity to spend a little of their time being of service to men who through accident or other causes, are compelled to pass their days in a darkened world.

Amongst the 160 registered blind men and women in the Victoria district are a few men who would so much appreciate being taken for a walk perhaps once or twice a week; men, some of whom are widowers living alone in one room, other men whose wives for reason of sickness or various troubles, are unable to take them out for the exercise and fresh air they so badly need.

Most of these men, owing to their blindness are unable to go out alone, and they crave the pleasure of being visited to take a guiding arm that will pilot them along perhaps to the beach, possibly for a walk in the park where they might listen to a band, or maybe they would gladly go on an occasional shopping expedition.

If you will kindly write, call or phone Beacon 5049 fullest details will be gladly given.

WORDS OR ACTIONS?

Recently it was reported in the Times that the B.C. Library Association had written the T.L.C. asking them to abolish their ban on Communists holding offices in their unions.

This shows that intellectuals, sometimes have less common sense and statesmanship, to say the least, than the manual worker. They give as one reason that because the Labor Progressive or Communist Party is legal, its members should not be discriminated against. The right answer to this is that for the good of Canada, that party should be made illegal.

The action of the T.L.C. which these librarians condemn was extremely wise, patriotic, and statesmanlike. For every one now knows, except apparently this library association, that Communists use trade unions, not to improve the conditions of the workers, nor to improve our economic strength. No! They use them to further their own diabolical political creed and to weaken our economic structure in the interests of their real home—Russia. One of their reasons for this is because after ignominious defeat in the last election they know that their only chance of ruling Canada will be through Russian domination of Canada. At least this is my informed opinion. They have noted that the only countries (except ignorant China) in which tiny Communist minorities have become the rulers are those eastern European countries where the Red Army was and is in real control.

That the library association supports the Communists is an apt illustration of a recent remark by Mr. Churchill: "Today we are being influenced more by words than by actions." Booky people are essentially people of words, and words today are being used by clever and well-disguised Communist, fellow-traveler and even Socialist propaganda to deceive, and to mean just the opposite of what ordinary people expect. Take just the word "peace." In this propaganda, although it expresses to us independence and freedom, the Communists and their friends know that it means slavery to Russia, with themselves as the slave-drivers.

ENLIGHTENED BOOK-LOVER.

THE trend of political events in western Europe, is an invitation to optimism among workers for peace and prosperity. One of the most encouraging events of our troubled times is the agreement of western Germany to join the Council of Europe, made up of representatives of non-communist governments. This ranges the western Reich on the side of amity with neighbors against which it twice waged world wars of aggression. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer summed up the action as a commitment on the side of the West against the East.

This historic move came on the heels of western Germany's acceptance of the French plan to pool Europe's coal and steel. Thus these two traditional enemies finally have joined hands at least temporarily to work for peace.

The Times of London sums up the development thus: "The Schuman plan which, in the German view, is intended to lay the economic foundation for political union in western Europe, was largely responsible for the federal German government's decision to accept the invitation to join the Council of Europe. By voluntarily joining it, the federal German government of 30,000,000 people nailed its political colors to the western mast."

There is no doubt that the present temper of the German people as a whole is pacific and that the idea of a federated Europe in which they can peacefully deploy their energies and talents is the one which, for the time being at any rate, has most strongly seized the public imagination.

An interesting corollary to the West German action in joining the Schuman plan is seen in the smashing defeat given the Communists in a Ruhr election Sunday to choose a new legislature for the state of North-Westphalia. The Reds got only 5.5 per cent of the vote.

FETTERNESS

Windsor Star

Most Canadians are quite satisfied with Dominion Day. If there were any good reason to change it, they would not object to an alteration. But they aren't much impressed by the fetters or "little-Canadian" attitude which insists there should be a change.

SUPERIOR RESOURCES

Montreal Star

Back from a series of meetings in London, our Secretary of State for External Affairs, Mr. Pearson, made a most optimistic progress report. He was speaking entirely of the European scene and his optimism was based upon the fact that, no matter how the figures are added up, the resources of the nations signatory to the Atlantic Treaty far surpass those of what he called "the Communist despotism." Because the raw material, as it were, is there, it will be only our own fault if we do not succeed in harnessing it.

Ups And Downs

By BRIAN A. TOBIN

"IT SEEMS," said the Elevator Man, "that a lot of people want to break up the party and go home—the municipal party, that is. Saanich's Ward 3 and Ward 1 are talking of joining Oak Bay. Ward 6 wants to go on its own, and Ward 5 is partly for and partly against. Apparently quite a few people think they'd be better off under a different arrangement. It may be just a matter of distant fields, looking green—and Oak Bay has some nice ones when the water restrictions allow it—or it may be just that it's spring time and everybody's restless, but they're certainly shifting those boundary lines around these days. And every way they jump them, Saanich gets a little smaller. Going up!"

"I don't see why," said the Elevator Man, "if this process goes on, we don't go the whole hog and really break the place up. Put through all the Saanich changes, split Oak Bay in half and call the new part Blackpool. Make Victoria West a separate municipality, establish the Parliament Buildings-Emery Hotel-Causeway section as a federal area like the District of Columbia in Washington, make Trial Island and the Outer Wharf free ports and set up a Crown Colony in James Bay. Then we could impose tariff walls between each part, put in toll gates, passport regulations and visas and have the time of our lives. I hate to see a job half done. Lower main!"

"I wonder," said the Elevator Man, "just how far we could go along that line. I guess it wouldn't be long before we'd all be clamoring to join up again. The point is that municipal boundaries are like window panes—they're put there solely for our convenience. When they get in the way it's time to review the situation maybe open them wide and let in a little fresh air."

Rackets And Food Scarcity In Kashmir Add To Problems Of Mediating Dispute

By RAWLE KNOX, from Srinagar, Kashmir

SIR OWEN DIXON, U.N. mediator on Kashmir, arrived here after a night drive through the cease-fire line that divides the Azad Kashmir and Indian forces. When I first saw him he was as non-committal as a mediator must be at this stage of negotiations, but at least his optimism about an early settlement appeared undiminished.

He insisted that his task so far has been merely to acquaint himself with every side of the problem, for in the absence of Pandit Nehru, the Indian Prime Minister, and Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan, the Pakistan Prime Minister, the soft words or hard bargaining which are the mediator's real job have had no chance to begin.

It would be well for them to begin quickly, for the state of Kashmir today is not a happy one. The same road on which Sir Owen traveled is the lifeline of Kashmir and it has been closed to all but United Nations officials for the last two and a half years. The closure has truncated Kashmir's import arrangements and prices here today are higher than they have ever been.

But the trouble is not merely that rice, the national food, costs sevenpence a pound while an ordinary working man's wage is about £2 a month. Nor even that the rice ration is limited to 26 pounds a month. The depressing fact is that only in the big cities is the ration at all obtainable, and that much of the little which villagers do receive has to be bought at black market prices. There are few people here who even try to pretend that the Sheikh Abdullah government is either efficient or honest.

Though that government is professedly left-wing and has chosen for the state flag a white plough on a red background (they use hammers but not sickles in Kashmir) the Russians remain noisily unimpressed. The most powerful voice to be heard on a wireless set here, easily outdining even Radio Kashmir, is that of Radio Moscow. Daily broadcasts in English, Hindustani and Bengali report harshly on the "slave labor" in Srinagar's factories. And it is a sorry truth, as I have seen for myself, that the craftsmen who produce the wonderfully intricate and beautiful Kashmir carvings and embroidery that are world-famous work in filthy cramped conditions for about one shilling and sixpence a day.

In the villages rice hoarding is carried on to an extent that makes life a desperate matter for the have-nots. The most primitive form of Communism is looting the rich when opportunity arises, and it is quite certain that in some districts here only the ever-present shadow of the military prevents the public from shaping this simple law with their own hands.

The danger is that whatever arrangement for the proposed plebiscite Sir Owen is able to negotiate may mean a sudden withdrawal of the Indian Army. Since the pre-plebiscite campaign among a people almost 95 per cent illiterate and 99 per cent hungry is going to be somewhat graphic, and since the state forces are hardly capable of dealing with any major disorder, the possible disappearance of the army is looked on here with misgivings. And Moscow has not overlooked the fact that Kashmir borders on the Soviet-controlled Sinkiang. There is little doubt that a return to normal under the aegis of either India or Pakistan would make for better government here and nothing is more urgently required. To all in Kashmir Sir Owen Dixon's optimism is a direly-needed tonic.

Britain's Lumber Order Smaller

VANCOUVER (CP)—Receipt of the United Kingdom's 1950 lumber order—"disappointingly small"—was reported Monday by a spokesman for coastal British Columbia operators.

He said the total order—to be divided among B.C., Washington and Oregon—was 200,000,000 board feet and added this constitutes only one week's production of the combined coastal mills.

Number Of Petals Tells If Rose Exhibition Type

By JACK G. BEASTALL

With the summer show of the Victoria Horticultural Society slated for Friday and Saturday, a few words on show roses would seem in order.

An interesting question was recently raised by a would-be exhibitor as to what the difference is between an "exhibition" and a "decorative" rose.

At the time, none of us who were asked could give a really practical answer although we knew it had something to do with the number of petals and that some varieties fall in the one category and some in the other.

The important point, in this instance, was how one could tell in which class to enter a bloom when not sure of its correct name and therefore unable to check its listing.

The answer was later found in a back issue of the Northwest Gardens and Home magazine and should prove valuable to both the gardener and the exhibitor.

NOVICES CONFUSED

The writer (name unknown) says that there is nothing mysterious about it although it confuses most novices, and that anyone interested in rose culture can readily learn to place variety in its right category.

He points out that those who use roses as cut flowers will have noticed that some last much longer than others, and the early failure of some varieties is due to the lack of sufficient petals.

His instructions to the beginner for overcoming the classification problem are simple. It is just a matter of taking a spent bloom of the variety in question and pulling it apart, petal by petal.

Should the petal count be greater than 25 the bloom may be safely identified as an "exhibition" type, while a count of less than 25 places it in the "decorative" class.

Man Charged With Forcible Seizure

Charged with forcibly seizing a man when he did not have lawful authority to do so, Leslie Wilson pleaded not guilty in city police court Monday. He elected trial before Magistrate H. C. Hall and was remanded to Thursday for trial.

He is alleged to have seized Jean B. Kibsgaard on or about June 2. Charge was laid under the Criminal Code of Canada.

2 Commons Seats Held By Liberals

Montreal-Cartier, Halifax Voters Return Govt. Men; Annapolis-Kings Conservative

By CANADIAN PRESS

The Liberal government Monday retained two seats in three federal by-elections. The Progressive Conservatives won the third.

Widely outdistancing their opponents, Liberal Leon D. Crestohl won in Montreal-Cartier in a four-man fight and Samuel Balcom, another member of the party, won over two opponents in Halifax.

Congratulated For Keeping Children Off Speedways

Congratulations were expressed to contestants in the Home Playlot contest by Greater Victoria Recreation Council president, O. B. Taylor, as awards were given out to winners at the Y.W.C.A.

"In this modern age, too many parents allow their small children to use the speedways of motorists as playgrounds," said Mr. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Strugnelli, 546-Selkirk Avenue, won the Victoria Police Department Benevolent Society cup for first place. The B.C. Electric Railway cup was won by second-place winners Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Archer, 2125 Hall Road.

An aluminum disc reading, "Victoria Recreation Council, Approved Playground," will be presented all 19 entries in the contest.

John A. Ewer, H. Austin Goward, Emerson Smith and Mrs. Gertrude McGill were the judges of the playlot contest.

Wants Army Huts For Building Barn

Release of five buildings at Gordon Head Camp is sought from the city by A. Palmer, executive secretary, Citizens' Rehabilitation Council of Greater Victoria, in a letter received at city hall.

He said the Veterans' Land Act department was interested in buying them for a veteran on one of their holdings, for the purpose of building a barn.

None of the buildings have been used for emergency shelter purposes, Mr. Palmer wrote, adding that all had been vandalized to some extent.

CONTINUED SUPPORT

Prime Minister St. Laurent, in a statement Monday night, said the results of the three by-elections indicated that "proportionate distribution is much the same and shows continued support of the Liberal government's policies and administration."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, said Mr. Nowlan's victory was a "well-deserved tribute to an outstanding Canadian" and "a splendid tribute to the fine constituency which has elected him."

In his rural riding in Nova Scotia's orchard country, Mr. Nowlan was opposed by the same Liberal candidate, Angus Elderkin, he fought in the general election last year.

The narrow Liberal decision that was subsequently thrown out by a court decision was turned Monday into a Progressive Conservative majority of 2,556 votes. Mr. Nowlan is president of the National Progressive Conservative Association. The complete vote: Nowlan 14,211, Elderkin 11,655.

In the other two contests the Liberals had things pretty much their own way. Mr. Crestohl, a Montreal lawyer making his first campaign, rolled up 9,701 votes. His nearest opponent was Harry Binder, Labor-Progressive, who had 3,907. Trailing were Maurice Hebert, Progressive Conservative, with 2,836, and Kaimen Kaplansky, C.C.F., 1,461.

The Montreal-Cartier by-election was made necessary because of the death of Maurice Hart, Liberal, who in the 1949 general election had a margin of some 7,000 votes over Mr. Binder, and a wider margin over C.C.F. and Progressive Conservative candidates.

Displaced Persons Lose Good Friend By Transfer

New Canadians in Victoria have lost one of their best friends in the National Employment Service office here.

Isabel M. L. Bescoby, known to displaced persons as "Miss Victoria" for the assistance she gave them, has been promoted assistant regional supervisor of staff training of the Unemployment Insurance Commission with headquarters in Vancouver.

Miss Bescoby was head of the female section of the National Employment Service office under the management of C. A. Mudge. She was also special placement officer handling handicapped persons and youths and was responsible for all arrangements for displaced persons in the Victoria office.

Her career with the National Employment Service, U.I.C., began on Sept. 22, 1942. Previous to that she worked for the provincial government's Correspondence School from 1934 to 1937. Between 1937 and 1942 she was principal of the Model School in Victoria.

She is a graduate of the University of British Columbia, and has taken two post graduate courses in two United States universities.

She obtained her present post following a promotional competition for the position between members of the staff of Unemployment Insurance Commission.

Ex-Dock Agent C. W. Tourtellotte Leaving Victoria

One of the best known figures on the city's waterfront is leaving to take up residence in Vancouver.

He is Clarence W. Tourtellotte, who came here 19 years ago and was C.N.R.'s dock agent at Ogden Point for 15 years before being superannuated in July, 1948.

It will be familiar ground Mr. Tourtellotte returns to as he was assistant Pacific coast manager for Canadian National Steamships for 13 years before coming to Victoria.

Mr. Tourtellotte has two married daughters and six grandchildren in Vancouver, and a married daughter with one child in Nanaimo.

Fires On Beach Alarm Residents

Because Saanich Council members were not sure of their jurisdiction in the matter, they reserved action Monday night on a request to prohibit beach fires at Smuggler's Cove, Ten Mile Point, until a report is received Request for council action came from F. W. Bishop, 3045 McAnally Road.

Druce Scores Winner For Foul Bay; To Play For Shamrocks Wednesday

Tommy Druce, who is expected to give the Shamrocks added scoring punch, got the green light from coach Arnold Ferguson last night to start for the local intercity league club against New Westminster Salmonbellies at the Memorial Arena Wednesday night.

Druce, who up until last night had seen no box action except for a couple of workouts with the Shamrocks, donned the strip of Foul Bay in the city Senior B League and, though a little rusty from his long layoff, found time to score the winning goal as Foul Bay downed Tillcum, 2 to 6, in overtime.

The lanky all-round athlete, who only recently had the cast removed from a wrist broken in a soccer game in Vancouver, showed plenty of speed in his initial start and, besides scoring the winning marker, set up the insurance goal scored by Alan Hudson.

However, the Foul Bay victory was tainted as the game was completed under protest by the Tillcums.

The controversial play which led to a ruckus that lasted fully five minutes came when a Tillcum player was waved to the sidelines for what appeared to be a 10-minute misconduct penalty. Shortly after the penalty Tillcums scored a goal which tied the game at 4 to 4. But the goal was called back when referees Tom Carney and Dusty Mair ruled that Tillcums had too many players on the floor and that a two-minute penalty had been called in addition to the misconduct infraction. Tillcum coach Mason Sheldrake immediately protested the decision of the officials claiming no penalty had been called in addition to the misconduct and his club was entitled to seven men on the floor.

After much discussion the referees stood pat on their ruling.

As things turned out the goal could have meant victory for the clubmen, as they eventually tied

Mailmen Rally To Down College

Post Office softballers remained on top of the Senior C Men's Softball League race by a scant half-game margin last night by defeating third-place St. Louis College, 6 to 2.

Meanwhile the runner-up Esquimalt Athletic Association team whipped Naval Reserve, 18 to 10.

The Mailmen were hard-pressed to turn back the Collegians and came from behind a 2 to 1 deficit in the eighth inning to score five runs. John Gardiner went the route for the Post Office nine. He struck out 10.

Toy Bishop was the big stickler in Esquimalt's victory, crashing out two home runs and a triple. Ole Johnson and Al Fulmer also hit for the circuit.

BYRON NELSON GIVES ANSWER

Lack Of Desire To Win Keeps Him Away From Tourney Trail

By OSCAR FRALEY

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—There have been nasty whispers in recent years that Byron Nelson abandoned competitive golf to avoid having his reputation tarnished by the onrushing Ben Hogan, but Lord Byron explained today that he simply wasn't interested in victory any more.

The squint-eyed Texan, watching grim-faced candidates for the P.G.A. crown sharpen their strokes at Scioto Country Club, insisted that he "never gets the urge to return to competitive play because I have no desire to win."

"If I wanted to win and had that desire, I would return to the tournament trail right now," Nelson asserted. "But you can't win if you don't have the desire, and I just haven't got it." Nelson reached the crest just before the war, winning the National Open in 1939. He stayed there throughout those years, capturing the P.G.A. title in 1940 and 1945, winning 12 tournaments in a row that last year and finishing in the money in a record 113 tournaments.

LOST PLAYOFF

Then the warriors, men like Hogan and Lloyd Mangrum, started returning home, Nelson took one more swing around the big time. It was in 1946 that Mangrum bested the big Texan in a triple playoff with Vic Ghezzi for the open championship. Then Nelson stepped down. The whisperings were that he saw the handwriting on the wall.

"He couldn't take it," one veteran pro, who shall remain unnamed, asserted during the recent National Open. "He should have stayed around for the good of the game."

In defence of Lord Byron, it must be said that he is probably doing more for golf than any of the tournament players. In addition to running his 654-acre Texas ranch, Nelson spends his summer months giving exhibitions and holding clinics at colleges and junior events.

Twice a year, during the Masters and the Colonial Invitational in Texas, he gives the name boys a chance to take their crack at him.

"I'm not scared," he said. "It's just that when you don't have that will to win, and do not play enough, you don't have the touch and concentration necessary to win those tournaments. You've got to do it through playing in them, not practicing."

WAGERING ON ONTARIO TRACKS DROPS HEAVILY

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario race tracks, the most heavily taxed on the North American continent, are taking a pasting at the pari-mutuel wickets this spring. And you can get odds that the reasons for the slump are the provincial government's 12½ per cent levy on the tote—and the bookies.

Figures from three 1950 meetings at Toronto—Dufferin, Woodbine and Greenwood—show that $6,354,406 has been wagered through the mutuels, a decrease of $912,682 from the corresponding 1949 period when the tax was 10 per cent.

Untold thousands of dollars are wagered every day with Toronto's hundreds of bookies while the tracks are operating.

In addition, track admission tickets are subject to a provincial amusement tax of 15 per cent, down 5 per cent from 1949.

The happiest guys in the game are the bookies.

Ross Turns Back Softball Leaders

Bud Ross, B.C. Forest Products' new mound find, made his second appearance in the Senior A Men's Softball League a winning one last night.

The "buzz" artist from Windsor handcuffed the league-leading Douglas Tire nine with five hits while his mates erased a 2 to 0 deficit with a four-run uprising in the bottom of the eighth inning to win 5 to 2.

Ross had a n-p-hitter going into the fifth, but Flori Goegan led off with a single to deep short to break the ice. Goegan stole second, advanced to third on two successive pitches that won the game for the mill men.

He singled through the middle and headed for second on Gunter's first pitch to the batter, Gus Hilton. Hilton grounded to Ab Ellis at shortstop, and Ellis missed the long jump that Duncan had on the ball. He turned and relayed the ball to second for what he thought was a routine force-out, but all hands were safe.

After John Kennedy walked, Mickey Smith worked the count to 2 and 2 before popping up behind short. Ellis and Goegan did an "Alphonse and Gaston" on the ball, and with all runners on the move with the hit, two runs crossed the plate before the Tireman outfielder had hustled the ball back to the infield.

Pete Bridge then hit a ground-rule triple to chase in Smith with the final run of the game.

Tonight Bluebird Cabs will tangle with Brentwood Aces in the battle for third spot. Game time is 6:30 at Central Park.

Short score follows: R. H. E. Douglas Tire 2 5 1 B.C. Forest Prod. 5 6 2 Gunter and Milliken; Ross and Kennedy.

Pat Pettigrew's triple led to the eighth inning led to the winning run as Moose defeated Allsorts, 8 to 7, in a Women's Softball League game at Central Park last night.

Scoring three runs in the first inning the Moose nine saw its lead vanish when Allsorts scored singletons in the first, second, third and fifth stanzas for a 4 to 3 edge.

The four girls bounced back with four runs in the top of the sixth but Allsorts replied with three in their half of the frame to knot the count at 7 to 7.

After tripping with one out Pettigrew scored the winning tally on an infield out.

R. Brown, who relieved starter Jocelyn Richmond in the sixth, got credit for the win. Irene Sande was charged with the loss.

Toppers will meet Red's Service at lower Central tonight at 6:30.

Short score follows: R. H. E. Allsorts 8 7 2 Moose 5 6 2 Jocelyn Richmond, R. Brown and Pat Pettigrew; Irene Sande and Yna Murray.

CHORLTON RETURNS TO A'S IN TEN DAYS

Rejoins Seattle For Insurance; Buy Hack

Recall of outfielder K Chorlton of the Athletics by Seattle Rainiers of the Pacific Coast League may not be as serious to the A's pennant hopes as at first believed.

Chorlton has been called back to the Coast League club because of injuries to Al Lyons, Frank Colman and Bill Ramsey, three of Seattle's outfielders.

Chorlton will be added insurance for the Seattle team but most likely will be back with the A's within a week or 10 days.

Meanwhile, business manager Reg Patterson of the club announced today that Johnny Hack, recently purchased from Twin Falls of the Pioneer League should join the A's in time for tonight's game at Tri-City.

George Washburn, a shortstop, has also been optioned to the Athletics from Twin Falls. Washburn can also play the outfield. He was with Norfolk of the Class B Piedmont League last year.

TO LIFT SUSPENSION

Patterson also disclosed that Edo Vanni, who was released by Victoria on Saturday, would possibly draw his release from the league in 10 days. At present he is under an indefinite suspension by league president Bob Abel.

In Tri-City Braves, who the A's meet tonight, the club is facing one of the "hot" teams of the league.

The Braves are riding a seven-game winning streak, the last four victories being over the league-leading Tacoma Tigers.

Southpaw Jim Probst, apparently recovered from a sore arm, is due to start for the A's tonight. Ron Smith and John Marshall are expected to follow in that order in the three-game series.

A current rumor doing the rounds of W.L.L. clubs has Dick Barrett, formerly of Seattle Rainiers and more recently of San Diego Padres, as joining either Vancouver Capilanos or Yakima Bears.

Bruce Auchincloss of Oak Bay checked in with the best performance of the day as he stopped Woodworkers with two hits. Frank Graham of Nobles struck out 13 while letting Sidney down with three hits.

Catcher Has New Use For 'Falsies'

SEATTLE (AP)—Baseball writer Emmett Watson reported today that one of the Seattle Rainiers' receivers, Jack Warren, "has started something that may revolutionize the whole business of catching."

Watson said old-time catchers used raw beefsteak inside their glove to absorb the sting of a fast ball and avoid bone bruises. Later they turned to an ordinary rubber bath sponge.

But Warren wasn't satisfied. With a pioneering gleam in his eye, he recently walked into a ladies' foundation garment store and ordered two of what are known in certain circles as "falsies." He's using one as padding in his big glove. The other is a spare.

He has won $817,475, making him the champion money earner of all the geldings in turf history. He won 41 of 81 starts.

ST. ANDREWS GRAB LEAD IN SOCCER FINAL

Scots Beat City By Two Goals In League Playoff

VANCOUVER (CP)—St. Andrews took a one-game lead in their best-of-three playoff series for the Coast Soccer League championship by beating Vancouver City 5 to 3 in the second game at Callister Park Monday night.

The teams drew 1 to 1 in the first game Saturday, and will play again on Wednesday night.

Both teams relied on the same line-ups as the ones which played on Saturday, and 2½ minutes from the start Brian Philley put the Scots in front with a nice shot. Ten minutes later Nick Glover fisted down a hard cross from Ivan Carr, and Denny Rogers equalized from the resulting penalty.

Brian Philley put St. Andrews in front again at the 28-minute mark when he took a pass from John Haley and easily beat goalie Dip Arpott.

Milligan broke through the Scots' defence at great speed and shot as Jones ran out to meet him. The ball was going straight for the net when Jones instinctively shot up his hands and luckily diverted it into safety.

After 38 minutes Haley put the Saints further ahead from Brian Philley's pass, and in another three minutes Philley headed a bouncing ball over Arpott to make it 4 to 1.

Quadra In School Softball Final

Quadra School Monday won its way into the finals of the Greater Victoria Elementary Schools softball championship series with a 12 to 6 victory over Doncaster. Esquimalt and Tolmie School were scheduled to meet today in the other semifinal.

The series final will be played later in the week.

Armed Goes Into Turf Retirement

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—H. A. (Jimmy) Jones, trainer for the west coast contingent of Calumet Marm's racing stock, said today that Armed, an older star of the stable, has been retired.

Jones said the nine-year-old gelding has been shipped to the farm at Lexington, Ky.

Armed is third on the all time money winning list, behind Calumet's Citation and second-place Stymlie.

He has won $817,475, making him the champion money earner of all the geldings in turf history. He won 41 of 81 starts.

Free Transportation To Shooting Show Tomorrow

Buses have been secured to provide transportation for students, boys scouts and adults who wish to watch shooting wizard Herb Parsons put on his spectacular show at the Victoria Gun Club tomorrow evening.

Those who wish to make the fare-free trip by bus should be at the C. & C. taxi stand, Government Street, before 5. About 400 can be accommodated on the C. & C. and Grey Line Tours buses, which have been donated. The show starts at 5:30.

Those who attended the show at the Odeon Theatre last week saw Parsons displaying some of his tricky shooting in news shots on the premiere of the motion picture "Winchester 73" in which he is the technical advisor on shooting and use of arms.

FROM THE FANSTAND

By PETE SALLAWAY, Times Sports Editor

Back in Victoria as a permanent resident, after an absence of 17 years, Lynn Patrick, new coach of the Victoria Cougars hockey team, is looking forward to taking over his new job with much enthusiasm. "It's great to be back in the Pacific Northwest and I know I'm going to be happy out here," declared the fellow who gave up the coaching job of the New York Rangers of the National Hockey League to come back to his home town.

Just Didn't Like New York

Naturally I questioned Lynn as to his reasons for quitting as a big league coach after only a season and a half in the position. "Pete, the reasons given out in New York when I tendered my resignation are the truth. I liked my job with the Rangers but just wasn't happy with my personal life. I wouldn't live in New York with a family if they gave me Madison Square Garden on the proverbial silver platter. It was alright as a place to live when I was single but with a wife and family no."

Lynn was quick to deny the rumors there was any trouble between himself and Frank Boucher, manager of the Rangers. "There were no differences between us," Lynn said. "We are the best of friends and I think a great deal of him. Those reports of friction were just the gossip of certain sports writers."

May Pass Up All-Star Job

Patrick is undecided as to whether or not he will go east to handle the coaching job of the N.H.L. All-Stars in the annual game against the Stanley Cup champion Detroit Red Wings in October. It would mean his being away from Victoria for the opening of the Coast League season here and for that reason it is quite possible he will pass up the assignment. He will make a final decision within the next week or 10 days.

Of last year's Cougars, Patrick is acquainted with only three of them—Eddie Wares, Eddie Dorohoy and George Robertson. "I was a member of the Rangers at the time Wares played his only game for the Blueshirts and remember the contest quite well as we beat Toronto Maple Leafs 2 to 1 and Eddie scored both goals from his right-wing position."

Commenting on last season's play in the N.H.L., Patrick disclosed that attendance figures in all United States cities in circuit fell off. "Montreal and Toronto were the only two clubs to show increases, but the drop off was not nearly as pronounced as in the remainder of the entertainment field. Baseball attendance this year has fallen off to a much higher degree than in hockey."

His Career An Active One

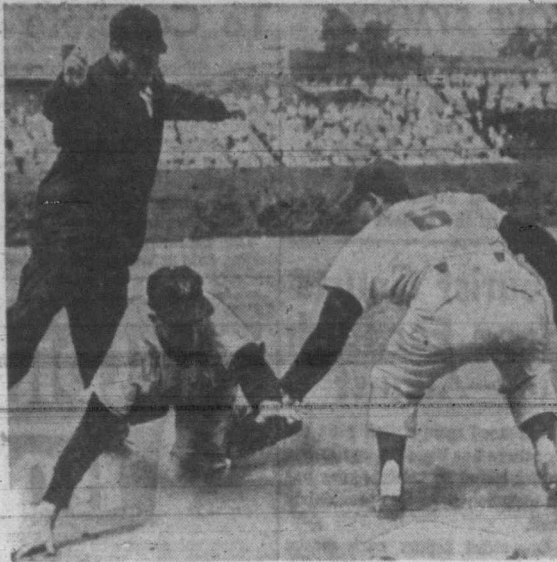

Since he left Victoria in 1933 Lynn has spent an active career as an athlete and coach. His first year was spent playing basketball and amateur hockey in Montreal. He joined the Rangers in the fall of 1934 and remained with the major hockey club until the spring of 1943 when he joined the United States Army. On his discharge in 1945 he rejoined the Rangers as a player for the balance of the season.

It was in 1946 that Patrick made his debut as a manager and coach, taking over the Rangers farm club in the American Hockey League at New Haven. His success with the minor league club resulted in his taking over the coaching job with the Rangers in December, 1948. His record with the Rangers last season is well known, and now Lynn is back in his home town to continue his hockey activities. And in his own words: "It's great to be back."

Saddler Scores Kayo Over Forte

TORONTO (BUP)—Lean and lethal Sandy Saddler, former lightweight champion of the world, handed Philadelphia's Johnny Forte the first knock-out of his career last night in the second round of a scheduled 10-rounder here.

Less than 3,000 fans attended the outdoor contest, which proved to be a one-sided affair from the start to its early finish.

So Near—Yet So Far

Trying to make it back to third, New York Giants' shortstop Alvin Dark finds his reach is too short as he is put out by Chicago Cubs' third baseman Bill Serena in the fifth inning of the game in Chicago. Calling the play is umpire Dusty Boggess.

Seeded Players Advance In Club Tennis Tourney

Carl Brand, like old man river, just keeps rolling along.

The veteran city net star and present Victoria Lawn Tennis Club champion Monday gained the semi-finals in the men's singles event of the annual club tournament defeating Bill Dunbar, 6-1, 6-1.

Darryl Thompson, of badminton fame, gained a quarter-final berth against city champion Ron Mitchell with a 6-3, 6-0 victory over J. Mullins; Peter Peacock, who is capable of going all the way, downed B. Coulcher, 6-3, 6-1 and J. McPherson trimmed R. Birch in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3 in other singles matches.

Mrs. Berrington was forced to three sets before disposing of Sue Garnett, 2-6, 6-0, 6-3, in a women's singles match. Anna Peden took a straight set 6-3, 6-3 victory over Miss S. Price and Gwen Elkington defeated Mrs. G. Dawson, 6-4, 6-4.

Other results and today's draw follow:

Men's Doubles—Thompson and Dye won from Yelloweas and Woodruff, 6-2, 6-4; Butt and Peacock won from Role and Hartley, 6-4, 6-4.
Women's Doubles—Miss Jackson and Mrs. Pritchard won from Mrs. Hobbs and Mrs. Pritchard, 6-4, 6-4.
Mixed Doubles—Miss Wilkinson and Mitchell won from Miss Gibson and Browning, 6-1, 6-1; Miss Gore-Langton and Wells won from Miss Parker and Ricks, 6-3, 6-2; Miss O'Neill and McArthur won from Mrs. Jorgensen and Miller, 6-1, 6-2.

Brooklyn Cools Off Win Streaks

Tip to the National League clubs—don't bring a winning streak into Ebbets Field. The unsympathetic Brooklyn Dodgers are sure to crack it.

It's uncanny the way the devil-may-care Dodgers cool off the "red hot" clubs.

First it was Philadelphia. The eager Phillies stormed into Ebbets Field May 30 in first place as a result of winning five of their previous six starts. The Brooks immediately polished them off twice to knock them off the top perch.

Then it was St. Louis. The Cards came into Brooklyn last Friday leading the league by 3½ games. The Dodgers thrashed them three straight times.

Last night it was New York. The Giants moved in with four victories in their last five starts. Brooklyn collected 10 hits off five Giant pitchers for an 8-to-5 victory.

Ralph Branca pitched his first complete game for the Dodgers since Aug. 1, 1949, although he was tagged for 12 hits. Four errors helped get Brooklyn as many unearned runs. Branca started with a rush, striking out 10 Giants in the first five innings. But he was lucky to finish.

TIED FOR LEAD

The victory, Brooklyn's fourth in a row, moved the Dodgers into a first-place tie with the Cardinals. Each team has won 32 and lost 20.

Boston Braves fell three games off the pace last night when Cliff Chambers of Pittsburgh Pirates bested Lefty Spahn 1 to 0 in a game enlivened by a skirmish between Chambers and Boston's Earl Torgeson. The latter pushed Chambers in the third inning after he was grounded by a close pitch. The two wrestled to the ground before the umpires and players of both teams separated them. Torgeson was ejected from the game.

Craigflower School, Victoria—1908

IN 1900 . . . FOUR HIGH SCHOOLS—553 PUPILS

At the century's end British Columbia maintained 298 schools serving a total enrollment of 21,531 pupils. But the great majority were dismal one-room shacks unsuited to higher education. In the whole province there were only 4 high schools and just 10 students taking University studies at newly formed Vancouver College.

IN 1950 . . . NINETY HIGH SCHOOLS—41,231 PUPILS

Today, nearly a thousand schools carry the torch of learning to approximately 165,000 young B.C. citizens. High school training is now widely available. Technical and Vocational schools combine with a great University to produce skilled craftsmen, engineers, scientists—trained men and women eager to apply new and better methods to the development of our natural and industrial resources. As educational horizons expand, so too does our general prosperity and individual opportunity.

Yet today, as in 1900, real progress still depends on that greatest of all our resources—the vision, courage and enterprise of our people, supplemented by their integrity and the quality of the products they produce.

Boom Predicted In Employment

Labor Minister Mitchell Tells House Midsummer Peak Near

OTTAWA (CP)—A mid-summer employment boom across Canada was predicted in the Commons Monday night by Labor Minister Mitchell as Opposition members pressed for federal action to stave off widespread pools of unemployment.

By the end of July, he said confidently, Canada will be undergoing its "tightest" labor situation. To back that up, he suggested the country never has been "tighter" than it is at this moment.

The debate, developing as the House studied Labor Department estimates, produced these proposals by party spokesmen:

1. A. L. Smith (P.C.-Calgary West): Labor should get a bigger share of industry's profit dollar. There should be some means of giving the worker a steady year-round income instead of prosperity at one period and starvation at another.

2. Charlie Gillis (C.C.F.-Cape Breton South): The government should go ahead with job-providing public-work projects and assist municipalities to relieve unemployment.

3. C. E. Johnston (S.C.-Bow River): The federal government should take some responsibility for the more or less permanently unemployed and help provide work in the coal fields of west and east by bringing down a national cost policy.

Mr. Mitchell gave credit for his predicted employment boom to the drive of the Canadian people.

He could not understand the "calamity howlers" who took what he felt was a "saturnic delight" in forecasting a depression.

Mr. Smith suggested industry and labor should find some way of giving the worker a greater portion of the profits as they increased. Labor should not be bound to so much an hour or a day.

Mr. Gillis said the federal government appeared to have "shelved" its so-called shelf of public works projects to relieve unemployment. He criticized the National Employment Service. Regional offices were not doing all that could be done and "poltical pressure" was being brought to bear in the giving out of jobs.

Mr. Johnston said agriculture, before the use of improved farm machinery, had been able to take care of many unemployed during seasonal periods. The labor department, he suggested, must tackle the problem of how to take care of men being displaced by machinery.

The chamber, before turning to the labor estimates, adopted a bill amending the Dominion Elections Act after defeating, by a standing committee vote of 57 to 21, an opposition proposal to extend the vote to all Indians in Canada.

Two bills broadening the investment powers of Canadian insurance companies received third reading.

Second reading—approval in principle—was given a bill amending the Canada Shipping Act to tighten its safety provisions. It was referred to committee for study.

An echo of charges by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, about engines in North Star aircraft was heard as the House studied a bill to finance deficits incurred by the Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Trade Minister Howe, in charge of T.C.A., said it was "absurd" for Mr. Drew to suggest that T.C.A. should accept the advice of parliamentarians on what to do about aircraft engines.

The Airline's officers were competent. Mr. Drew suggested it was just as much the duty of members to examine the details of aircraft engine operations as it was for them to consider the comparative advantages of diesel engines and steam engines.

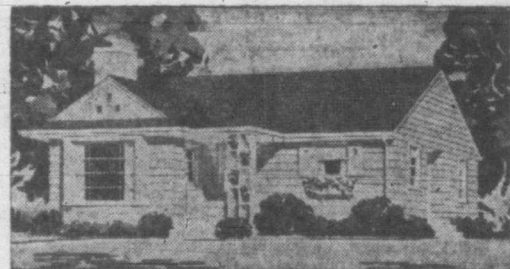

The House, moving towards prorogation, adopted a government motion to sit Wednesday evenings, a "free" night up to now. The chamber will sit from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.—with breaks for lunch and dinner—five days a week.

In the early stages, Fisheries Minister Mayhew said the government hopes to initiate an international conference to deal with complaints that foreign travelers are interfering with Canadian vessels on the North Atlantic fishing banks.

Tourist Courts Hope For Rush July-August

Increased competition plus the fact there has been fewer tourists on the island so far this year has hit auto courts in this area fairly hard.

Operators report early-season business has been exceptionally slow, and people who have driven in were watching their pennies closer than in the post-war travel boom days.

"There are more auto courts in this area now, and there are a lot of places with the latest in accommodation. As a result, you have to be 'on the ball' to make the most of the summer. We need about three more months added to the season," commented one owner.

OBJECT TO ROUNDABOUT

Vic Hobbs, secretary of the Victoria and Vicinity Auto Courts Association, said the roundabout at the Fountain intersection tended to send many visitors out Douglas Street where there were no courts, rather than along Gorge Road to the Island Highway.

"We asked the City Council about it, but they say they cannot put up a sign to direct tourists as it would be unfair to other businesses to give one a special sign," he said.

Though prices are much the same as last year, tourists are saving their money by cooking in their cabins considerably more than in recent years.

An increase in the number of auto courts around Nanaimo and the numerous sailings to and from the mainland from the up-island city also cuts into local business, operators say. Cancellation of the Sidney-Steveston ferry service this year is another contributing factor.

Business is picking up at present, and July and August will likely see most establishments well-filled.

Need Of Raising Extra $16,000 For Roads To Complete Program Worries Saanich

Councillors E. P. Cummins and J. G. Ryan of Saanich Council are not at all happy about the municipality having to budget for $16,000 to complete the $270,000 road program started last year.

They made this clear at the council meeting Monday night. The municipal solicitors, in a letter, said it was perfectly legal for Saanich to direct the sum to be spent to complete the work after the original by-law funds were exhausted. Mr. Cummins had doubted the legality of the move.

By majority vote the council defeated a motion by Mr. Cummins, seconded by Mr. Ryan, that the auditors be asked to bring in a detailed report to explain where the by-law monies were spent.

Councillors Leslie Passmore and George Austin considered it an unnecessary expense as the engineer's final report would show the same and that the auditors would, in any event, get the facts from the engineering department.

Towers Urges Canada Boost Exports To U.S.

Shoot For Business,
He Tells Business

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, advised Canadians Monday to shoot for the United States market.

For practical purposes, the U.S. market is the only one in the world where imports are not restricted for foreign exchange reasons, he told the St. John's Board of Trade.

Mr. Towers said the solution for Canada's foreign exchange problem must come in part from an increase in her sales to the United States.

"I do not for a moment underestimate the importance to Canada of our overseas markets," he said. "I hope that their efforts, buttressed by co-operation from this part of the Atlantic, will result in a very substantial volume of trade being done."

Speaking of domestic developments, Mr. Towers said the level of capital investment in Canada remains high, but the period of substantial annual increases is apparently over for the present.

Saanich Ward One Ready To Listen Before Deciding On Secession

If Saanich Council can show the Ward One "Panhall" Ratepayers' Association that it would be to their advantage to stay with the municipality rather than join Oak Bay, the area would drop its secession aims.

Councillor Frank S. Green, new and alert member of council, told the Saanich board Monday night that one of the ratepayers' officials had telephoned him and relayed that message the same afternoon.

"They want to send a committee to meet us on a fact-finding mission to learn what Saanich can do in the way of improvements and services," Mr. Green said.

The council voted unanimously to have the committee appear at an open meeting. No date was set.

The Ward Three area of Saanich—Cadboro Bay, Ten Mile Point and Gordon Head—is also bent on a union with Oak Bay.

Mr. Green said the Ward One area involved, as reported to him, would have Ruby Road as the northern boundary and the area east of Shelbourne Street down to the city.

Members took this opportunity to express a few views on the Ward One situation.

Mr. Green thought Councillor L. H. Passmore's view that the area "would be better off with Oak Bay" as a poor policy until the meeting with the committee, as it would get in the press. Mr. Passmore stuck to his guns. He said he would say yes if they wanted to join either the city or Oak Bay.

Mr. Passmore thought it was "a natural" for the area to go with Oak Bay and join its north-west sewer. "That would be far better than pumping sewage five or six miles across Saanich," the veteran councillor said. He has always claimed that if a majority in any area want to leave Saanich he would not oppose them.

Mr. Green thought his colleague's attitude was poor for a man who represented Saanich as a whole.

Reeve Joseph W. Casey said that until such time as secession came, "I'm going to fight for the whole of Saanich as she is now."

The reeve pointed out the area in question could have linked up with the northeast sewer years ago when the opportunity was offered. "and, yes, when it was cheap, too," said Councillor George Austin.

The council granted the ratepayers' group access to its assessment rolls requested in a letter from David Reid, secretary.

No Funds To Fill Saanich Pot Holes

Shortage Of Money Indicates Road Repairs To Suffer

Many of Saanich's pot-holed side roads will probably have to go without much maintenance work this year.
The reason: Not sufficient money in the municipal works department budget.

65 Too Early To Retire, Says Gyro Speaker

The problem of old age is not only financial but has other factors which are often more important than the need for a pension, Dr. Harry Cassidy, former director of social welfare for B.C. and at present with the University of Toronto, told the Gyro Club at the Empress, Monday.

The speaker outlined four of the main problems connected with old age: economic, medical, housing and recreation.
"One of the greatest economic problems today is keeping old people at work," Dr. Cassidy said. "The number of men and women reaching the old age bracket is growing each year. The average life span today is 65 years. In Roman times it was 23 years. People today can expect to live longer than their parents or grandparents."

"It is not feasible to retire everyone at 65," the speaker said. "We must keep old people working at appropriate occupations. This may mean shifting men to different work. Firms who are turning down jobs to men over the age of 40 or 45 years old are doing a grave disservice to the country," he added.

Housing for old people requires a lot of planning. When a couple's family grows up and marries, there is no need for so many bedrooms or a rumpus room. As they grow older and are unable to care for themselves they need a small apartment where they can obtain special services. "Different houses are needed for different ages," he pointed out.

Dr. Cassidy outlined a scheme for a special village made to house old people. He said such a scheme would have to be carried out by individual groups rather than the government. He urged the Gyro Club to look into such an idea. He pointed out that old people would be in a position to pay for such a housing scheme.

In such a village an old person would be with people of his own type and receive comradeship and recreation with others. "Such a plan would help old people get a rounded and decent kind of life," Dr. Cassidy continued.

To Make List Of Surplus Equipment

On a motion sponsored by Councillor J. G. Ryan, Saanich Council Monday night authorized a report from all department heads on equipment they consider surplus to their requirements which can be disposed of. Council refused to sanction the sale of a pumping motor from the fire department for $35 to Harry Payne, James Bay Garage and Machine Shop.

The subject came up at the meeting of Saanich Council Monday night, and Councillor Sidney Pickles, works group chairman, could he throw his voice from California, would probably be telling his council colleagues "I told you so!"

Over Mr. Pickles' strong objection the council lopped $50,000 off his 1950 department budget. This was done to keep the mill rate down. The money cut off estimates represented about three and one-half mills.

Councillors John Ryan and E. P. Cummins voiced their disapproval of the way the department budget had been drafted.

Mr. Ryan claimed the budget had been earmarked for permanent work "and the way nothing has been set aside for oiling roads and filling potholes is disgraceful."

Engineer H. D. Dawson explained $50,000 had been set aside for maintenance of roads, $20,000 for frost break-up. A goodly portion of this had already been spent and the engineer did not think there would be much left for the rest of the year.

Mr. Ryan complained about the maintenance money being used for foundations of roads. He referred to Hampton Road as an example, but Councillor Leslie H. Passmore pointed out this had been "one big pothole." He won his point.

Councillor George Austin felt sure there would be no money left over for side roads when Mr. Dawson got through keeping bus route roads open.

"And remember, we are duty-bound to keep them open and a lot of them were not covered by the road by-law," he said.
Mr. Passmore said he voted to cut down the department budget, "so I'm not kicking over what we are up against now."

During the course of discussion it was brought out that $12,000 had been set aside for ditching work.

Mr. Pickles and Councillor W. C. Kersey were not present.

No Tax On Stolen Bonds

OTTAWA (CP)—A Winnipeg wholesale grocery concern, which lost $8,200 when a "trail juvenile" allegedly slipped by a protective wiring system and made off with the company's Victory Bond holdings, won an income tax appeal board Monday.

The board ruled that the money lost through that burglary in 1945 can be claimed as a deduction from the income tax assessment.

It thus overruled the findings of the revenue department, which declared that Weidman Brothers Ltd. of Winnipeg could not claim for the stolen bonds. These the department claimed, were in the nature of company investments and not current income.

TOO BUSY FOR DRAIN BY-LAW

A by-law to borrow money to cure Saanich drainage headache probably won't be set up for this year. Reeve Joseph W. Casey said that the engineering department was so loaded with work he doubted that the by-law could be made ready for this year.
Council changed its mind twice on how to go about getting money for drainage work earlier this year and finally settled on putting a by-law to the ratepayers.

Sidewalk Risks Damage Claim Worry Saanich

A claim of a husband for $50 to partially compensate for doctor's bills involved when his wife slipped and fell on Saanich's uncared-for sidewalks, sparked a heated discussion on sidewalks at the Saanich Council meeting Monday night.

The woman was Mrs. W. Bond, 3537 Savannah Street, who on May 20 slipped and fell on the loose gravel on Cloverdale Avenue and suffered a cut over an eye requiring six stitches in hospital. She also suffered shock, from which Mr. Bond, in a letter, said she had not yet recovered.

The claim was referred to the solicitor.

The resulting discussion on sidewalks revealed that there was no money allocated in the 1950 budget to have them maintained. This meant, Councillor Frank S. Green was told, that the local improvement system was the only alternative.

"Cloverdale is bad and there are a lot more like it," said Councillor G. Ryan. Councillor E. P. Cummins joined him in this.

He thought that no money for sidewalks was a sorry state of affairs which the council should correct.
Mr. Cummins was also critical of the way some construction men were sweeping sidewalks and leaving them that way after construction work was finished.

Engineer H. D. Dawson agreed. Councillor George Austin was of the opinion these offenders should be taken to court.
Mr. Dawson was asked to have a chat with construction men and warn them against destroying sidewalks—and, as someone in the council chamber said: "Such as they are."

Application Made To Open More Lots At Queenswood

A public hearing will be called on the question of reopening the Queenswood by-law to allow for subdivisions on Queenswood Avenue, Saanich Council decided last night.
The by-law passed some time ago ruled that lots cannot be further subdivided.
Decision for the hearing came after David G. Sloan, counsel for builder Victor L. Leigh had asked that Lot 33 with a 200-foot frontage be subdivided into two lots with a 100-foot frontage each.

Mr. Sloan thought the by-law worked a hardship on property owners and thought it only fair the by-law be revised to allow exceptions.

By ART STOTT

DOES A TOWN have a psychology as well as personality? If it's highly individualistic as far as its citizens are concerned, is it possible for them to get together to launch a co-operative project? You wonder after you've been talking to some of the people interested in acquiring a centre for combined cultural activity here.

Problems seem to crop up like lumps in mosquito season when the interested groups put forward their ideas and their ideas. What may be excellent accommodation for men and women interested in pictorial art may be far from desirable for those interested in music. What is satisfactory to the musicians may not be quite so good for those concerned with drama. It isn't so much a matter of each section wanting its own way. It's more a question of looking so closely at disadvantages that the advantages of joint action are missed.

HOW WOULD YOU go about starting cultural headquarters in Victoria? Maybe the best plan would be to look for the lowest common denominator, as we used to do when we were adding fractions in grade school. What's the lowest common denominator for the art groups? Getting down to basic facts, they need a roof over their heads, four walls and a floor. Next, they need a will to work together, to reconcile themselves to something less than perfection in order to get anything at all. Maybe that's difficult for the artist.

If they had a million dollars or so, it might not be hard to meet everybody's wishes. In Victoria, there doesn't appear to be a million lying around for that purpose. That's why it's important for the culturally inclined to get together and see what they can acquire from their pooled resources.

PERHAPS THE first requirement for our local groups is to meet and decide if they are on common ground. If they are, then it shouldn't be too hard to have a committee set out minimum requirements. Should those requirements fall within combined financial resources, the way is open for co-operative action, not the individual explosions which can blow any organization apart.

In the years to come Victoria may have a civic centre catering to the tastes of all cultural groups. That is an ideal held firmly by many of our citizens and a worthwhile ideal, too. But it isn't going to be realized next week. Quite conceivably some of the instrumentalists in the Victoria Symphony will be specializing on harps in an entirely new venue by the time that vision materializes.

IN THE MEANTIME, concerted action could bring results. They might not measure up to a combination of Carnegie Hall and the National Gallery, but they'd mark a start, and provide some pretty valuable experience in co-operative living. That experience could be as worthwhile as highly technical specialized knowledge when the day comes for the creation of a more imposing and satisfactory centre for the arts.

It might even help to establish in this city a better psychology—one that could help to overcome a penchant for destructive criticism.

REMEMBER THE second couplet in that old song "Take me out to the ball game?" No? It says "Buy me some popcorn and crackerjack. I don't care if I never come back." That's a ball game for you—and what it does to the lovely ladies in the stands. Some of my best friends are ball fans, but—

One of the loyal supporters of Athletics had a year or two ago was a young woman who looked as if she'd just stepped out of the pages of Vogue. It went deeper than appearances, too. She had charm, personality and wit. Put her in almost any situation and she could carry it off with aplomb. Discuss politics, sociology, books, family life, the theatre or the arts, and she'd turn as neat a phrase as anybody in the company.

PUT HER IN a box at the ball park, and she'd be in there pitchin'. Maybe some of the fans cracked their gum louder, but they didn't chew any harder. Maybe some of the fans were less choice in the diction, but they couldn't yell "Murder" any better.

You think she's the exception? Take your eyes off the diamond when the next rhymer starts and look at the people around you. She's just one of the majority.

"Take me out to the ball game." Sure, sure. But, oh brother, what a roughing up that finishing school polish is going to take.

Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., Aids Flood Fund

Cheque for $2,062, proceeds of recent tag day on city streets for Winnipeg-Manitoba Flood Relief, was presented Mayor Percy George by Mrs. C. L. Bishop, head of Municipal Chapter of I.O.D.E., at ceremony in mayor's office Monday afternoon.

Left to right, with mayor are: Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. H. L. Woolson, first vice-president, and Mrs. G. F. Green, chairman of family welfare committee of chapter which staged flood relief tag day.

Shortage Of Water At Gordon Head Not Confined To Camp Residents

In any shortage of water at Gordon Head army camp, the residents there are not suffering any more than other people of Gordon Head area.

E. Palmer, executive secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, reported today that facilities for bringing water to the camp are in order.

The secretary said the camp residents have all the services that could possibly be provided "and a lot more as well than the general citizen does not get."

He took exception to a woman's report that burst water pipes under two huts were cutting down the water supply to the camp and had not been fixed in spite of repeated requests for action from the authorities.

"We spent $3,000 there fixing up the damage done by last winter's weather," Mr. Palmer continued.

To illustrate how the water supply is, the secretary said the March to May water bill this year was $100 more than for the same period last year.

He said two tanks were kept full of water to meet fire emergencies.

The secretary said there may be one or two people in the camp who are complaining about things, but felt sure the others were content with conditions.

Complainers, he said, had not taken up the offer to move into other suites where all facilities were available.

Other speakers who will address the delegates are W. E. Hensell, executive manager of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Association's board of commercial interest. He will speak on merchandising and present-day distribution problems.

A. A. Brown, secretary of the Canadian Foundation for the Advancement of Pharmacy, will outline the financial assistance to Canadian Colleges of Pharmacy.

Other speakers included George Bender, editor of Modern Pharmacy, and Professor G. A. Groves, faculty of pharmacy, University of B.C. Professor Groves will speak on "anti-histamines."

The delegates during the stay here will be entertained by the Greater Victoria Retail Druggists' Association.

Projects canceled

J. A. Jones, B.C. regional supervisor of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, on a business visit from Vancouver today, said the corporation had canceled all its newest projects due to high construction costs. He said 230 housing units in the province were affected.

"We anticipated a price boost when we called for tenders a month ago for 15 housing units at Macaulay Point," he said. "We found the prices quoted were all out of line with our estimates and so called the project off."

"We may again call for tenders for these projects in about three months," he added. "But it will depend on cost of materials and our estimates."

G. L. Chatterton, regional supervisor of the Veterans' Land Act, said there were 55 veterans' houses under construction on Vancouver Island and another 35 on which construction had been about to start.

New Honors In Public Health Won By Gayton

Dr. J. L. Gayton, city medical health officer, has passed examinations of the American Board of Preventive Medicine and Public Health, held in Portland, May 28 and 29, for specialists. City Council was advised at the meeting today.

Dr. Gayton was the only Canadian among the 75 specialists taking the examination. Only a third of the group passed and will receive certificates. He was the first Canadian to take the examinations, which were the fourth held by the American Board since its inception a year ago.

On May 30, 31 and June 1, Dr. Gayton attended a conference of the Western Branch of the American Public Health Association. There were 750 public health personnel from all over the western United States and B.C.

Price Jump Halts Work On Subsidized Homes In Victoria

Overnight Increase Adds To Price Of Bungalow

Some contractors, as well as hundreds of people building their own homes, faced financial losses today as the result of the price boost on retail lumber which jumped overnight from $70 to $96 per thousand board feet.

The price increase on three grades of lumber also will bring a temporary halt on construction of subsidized homes which are in great demand in Victoria due to the housing shortage, it was learned today.

Contractors said the price boost would slow down private building, especially in low-cost homes, as the increase meant approximately $500 added to the price of a five-room bungalow.

While the price increase was anticipated by a large number of contractors weeks ago, many others were caught by surprise. They had expected the increase would take place later in the season or in fall.

Other contractors expected the price boost would discourage many people from building this year. They were not happy about the increase.

J. A. Pollard, president of the Victoria Building Industries Exchange, claimed the price increase would "practically kill private building."

Other contractors, however, felt that private buildings would not be seriously affected unless other building materials went up. The price boost which went into effect today saw common grade lumber used in general construction go up to $96 per thousand board feet, a $26 increase.

Lumber sources said the increase applied to No. 1, 2 and 3 grades of common lumber. Finished lumber and flooring would also go up about $3 a square, they said.

The retail price of shingles also climbed to $14.50, an increase of $2.75. At the same time, building suppliers said they anticipated a price increase on all types of roofing material. But Sidney Roofing & Paper Company reported prices for roofing materials were unchanged.

PAYS FOR POOR BRAKES

V.I.C.L. Union Returns Report By Conciliators

A conciliation report recommending $2.50 a week wage increases for office workers of the Vancouver Island Coach Lines is being returned to the labor department by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

An official of the union said the report was incorrect in that it recommended "the present 40-hour work week remain in effect."

"That's all very well," said the union spokesman, "but the office employees are working a 44-hour week."

He thought the employees would meet later in the week on the wage increase offer.

OGDEN POINT BUSY

Donaldson, Furness, Royal Mail Ships Now In Port

For the first time in the memory of a number of local waterfront authorities, three ships representing the British lines which serve this coast regularly were docked at Ogden Point's Pier A today.

At the south berth were the Furness Line's Pacific Importer and Exporter of her, the Donaldson Line's Corrientes. On the other side of the recently modernized pier was the Royal Mail Line's Ms. Durango.

The Pacific Importer and the Corrientes are awaiting gangs to load lumber for the United Kingdom. Each is scheduled to take on about 300,000 board feet.

PASSENGERS DISEMBARK

Three passengers disembarked from the 5,825-ton Durango when she arrived here from Britain this morning after encountering fog in the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Officials of George Paulin Ltd., local Royal Mail Line agents, said they were Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sykes and Maj. N. A. C. Smillie. Twenty-one other passengers will proceed to Vancouver when the ship sails around 5 this afternoon, including two round-trippers, Capt. and Mrs. P. Cooper. Capt. Cooper is a retired Royal Mail Line skipper.

A fourth vessel at Ogden Point was the Greek freighter Evi Livanos. She docked at Pier B at 2 this morning and will sail

Accidental Death Says Seawall Tragedy Jury

John McNutt, killed last Friday while at work on the reconstruction of the Dallas Road seawall, died by accidental means, jury-men decided at an inquest today.

Mr. McNutt, 45, was the sign-man for the gasoline shovel engaged in cleaning out a portion of the old seawall on Dallas Road at the foot of Pilot Street.

George Fox of Vancouver, shovel operator, said he immediately sounded the warning horn when he noticed the "boom" attempting to lift the bolted tip was collapsing.

According to evidence by Ronald G. Foxall, 2733 Avebury Avenue, McNutt was standing 12 feet below the base of the shovel when the boom began to collapse. He apparently began to run to get out of the way, but chose the wrong direction as the boom tip followed him, catching him on the back of the head.

On his arrival at the Jubilee Hospital, he was pronounced dead by interne Dr. Lucille Wilson. He had two large cuts on the back of his head and several smaller ones on his forehead, top of head and the bridge of his nose.

The gasoline shovel was in good condition according to evidence presented by Const. Arthur Deeks of the city police and technical engineer Albert Manser.

Evidence showed the deceased had been experienced at that type of work although only graded as a laborer.

Name Winners Of Derby Prizes

Mrs. G. Fragerberg, Box 1491, R.R. 3, won the television set and E. Manuel, 644 Cormorant Street, the second prize in the consolation bracket of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association salmon derby held on Sunday. As tickets were not all collected Sunday, officials held a special meeting Monday night to decide the winners.

D. G. Kyle, 1330 Stanley Avenue, reported to city police at 12:30 this morning that he had watched a man try to break into his own car and one across the street and then leave the area in a car. He gave police a description of the car, but officers in a prowler car were unable to locate it.

Another pair of gangs from this city were at Cowichan Bay completing loading of 500,000 feet of lumber aboard the British freighter Cromarti. Her cargo is for Britain.

The comparatively busy spell along the waterfront is expected to continue, Mr. Ridout said.

Happy Days At The Beach Or—Life With Junior

By PENNY SAVER

My, you should have heard my chum Mabel this morning! Was she in a lather, and all because she went to the beach yesterday. Seems she and hubby, Sam, plus a few relatives, Junior and the family pooch piled into their small English car and headed for the beach early in the morning. Arriving at their destination Junior behaved nobly for the first half-hour, what with burying his father in the sand, digging himself through to China and heaving a few sloppy sand pies at passers-by, he kept himself in a fairly happy state. Then it happened! All Hades broke loose as well as a few other things when he discovered mama and papa had forgotten to bring along his sand bucket and shovel.

Worth 29 cents they are and Sam Slapsaddle would gladly have paid five dollars to silence his offspring! Mabel related that their pride and joy bellowed for a full fifteen. Just long enough to give other beach dwellers who were beginning to throw nasty looks their way the idea he'd been beaten within an inch of his life. Sam was all for tying a rock around Junior's neck and nonchalantly dropping him into the salt chuck but Mabel came to the rescue.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Miss Dix: A young man is in love with me who is everything a man should be, kind, considerate, dependable, honorable, upright and well-to-do, but with all of these good qualities I do not love him. I have tried hard enough, but my efforts have been useless. Five years ago I fell in love with a man who really cared nothing for me, took me out only when he had nothing else to do, who lied to me and stood me up repeatedly, but it didn't matter. I took anything just to be with him now and then. Four years have passed since we last met, but he is still in my mind and heart.

Shall I marry this fine fellow who loves me dearly, knowing I will be a dutiful wife, will give him respect, admiration and everything else marriage demands of a wife—except love? Can marriage be a success with love only on one side?

WONDERING

Answer: No. Never. Especially when one of the parties to the marriage loves someone else. For between the husband and wife there will stand forever the shadowy ghost of the old romance that will keep them from ever really coming together in the oneness that alone makes marriage a success.

Special Stall For Nursing Home Fete

F. E. Winslow, president of the board of directors, will officially open the garden fete planned by Ladies' Auxiliary to Victoria Nursing Home, Gorge Road, on Wednesday. Mrs. M. Caird, Mrs. M. Humphries and Mrs. E. Emery, left to right, with nurses, Miss A. Roberts and Miss H. Stewart, are eagerly looking forward to the affair which will feature a special stall of articles made by ex-patients. There will also be stalls of home cooking and aprons, and pupils of Adeline Duncan will entertain with Highland dancing. Mrs. C. C. Warren, president, will receive visitors.

300 Youngsters Featured In Mammoth Dance Routines In Stars Of 1950

More than 300 young dancers, from tiny toddlers to intermediate and senior students, made "Stars of 1950," presented by Florence Clough in Royal Theatre last evening, a delightful success.

Outstanding were colorful group numbers, which featured attractive settings and costumes. Fantasy from Alice in Wonderland had all of the gay characters and woodland folk—vee elves, bright flowers, dainty fairies, colorful butterflies and fluffy bunnies.

Alice was Jeannie Dunbar; Mad Hatter, Jill Pinniger; March Hare, Jacqueline Porteous; White Rabbit, Judy MacCormac; Mouse, Betty Lou Hayman; Mock Turtle, Darlene Dovey; Humpty Dumpty, Valerie Parkin; Queen of Hearts, Frances Merriman; King of Hearts, Betty Mae King.

Forty youngsters told the story of a Dutch Wedding, with clever routines in "Oud-Hollandsche Boerendansen." Lucy Tomczyk was the girl; Brenda Myren, the boy; and Tommy Alexander, farmer.

GYPSY MOOD

In scintillating Gypsy Rendezvous, members of intermediate group presented Tarantella, Tambourine and Sicilian Tarantella dances. Included were Myrna Hunter, Leona Orchard, Gwynne Suzanne Burrey, June Blackwood, Joan Layton, Mary O'Neil, Marion Mezer, Marlyn Mowat, Margaret Nelson, Patsy Shawe, Bernice Plum.

Audrey Law, Dale Jones, Carol Crombie, Sharon Moore, Joan Delahanty, Lindsay Alexander, Barbara Keung, Mickey Tempest, Bonnie Briggs, Rose Marie O'Brien, Connie Streeton, Patsy Knap, Virginia Leeming, Carol Engelson.

Diane Roskelley, supported by Tommy Alexander, Roger Lowe, danced Sicilian Tarantella. Chorus, Jill Pinniger, Frances Rigby, Jean Seaton, Adeline Chuhaywick, Sandra Shawe, Anne Deakin, Lynne Stewart, Sandra Dicks, Johnette Alexander, Carol Hunter, Patsy Wedworth, Maxine Neal.

Joan Saxon, Michael Prior,

Cathy Tranter-Bowes were "Three Little Pigs at a Circus," which featured ponies, Lynne Johnson, Arlene Conconi, Barbara Creed, Betty Baird, Patsy O'Brien, Marie Stockley, Darlene Dovey, Valerie Parkin.

Trainers, Maxine Kennedy, Linda Pettersen, June Wellburn, Betty Mae King; adagio, Valerie Parkin, Tommy Alexander; tumblers, Alicia Tubman; side show dancers, Patsy Elder, Sharon Kirk; burlesque, Frances Merriman, Marlyn Sommers, Dana Raif, Valerie Parkin, Darlene Dovey; strong man act, Lucy Tomczyk; Ron Purcell; ticket seller, Ann Deakin; balloon seller, Jean Seaton. On bleachers, Lynn Crosby, Tanya Miller, Cheryl Smith, Judy Wormell, Joanne Cotton, Julianne Height, Sandy Carter, Wendy Strong, Lindy Lee Bergstrom, Mary-Jane Brown.

WESTERN NOTE

Striking a western keynote was "Down Oklahoma Way," with Frank Rodwell as Kid from Texas; Doreen Bull Shy Maid; Doreen Pearson, Oklahoma Gal, and a large chorus. Gary Smele sang "Oklahoma."

SOLO NUMBERS

Outstanding among solos was the beautiful Pas Seul from Swan Lake danced by Doreen Bull, who was also partnered with Ron Purcell in Pas De Deux.

Others in solo numbers were Patsy Elder, Doreen Pearson, Joan Saxon, Lydia Yee, Alicia Tubman, Sharon Kirk, Alfred Pettersen, Roger Lowe, Frank Rodwell, Valerie Parkin, Darlene Dovey and Frances Merriman.

The affair was sponsored by Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E. Orchestra was directed by Reginald Wood; scenery by Reg Bullock and dances and costumes by Florence Clough.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

It is certain that all of us see in a figurative sense—only that we can understand. All other sights are merely compositions of light and shadow, without meaning.

It would seem that any adult would recognize that a baby could not follow a television program. Obviously, a baby could see motion on a screen, but even motion is fatiguing, especially when accompanied by sound. That is why babies cry in movie theatres when their eyes become bewildered by the activities of objects on the screen, which they are unable to comprehend and blend into a story.

"I have a four-and-one-half-month-old baby," writes Mrs. A. S., "and I live with my in-laws. They have a seven-inch television screen and they constantly put the baby in front of it to watch the programs. Although he seems to enjoy watching it, I wonder if it is good for his eyes. I have heard that even older persons have trouble with their eyes. I wonder if this will affect him when he is older?"

"We haven't had television long enough for anyone to be able to answer that. But knowing babies I can state with emphasis that looking at a television program is no entertainment for them. The four-month-old child is becoming newly aware of color, sound and motion. A bright red or yellow scarf thrown over a chair will stimulate him because of the enjoyment he gets from the colors. He will watch a tree of moving leaves and be fascinated and his eyes will follow cars traveling up the street.

But, it is necessary to prevent the baby having too much stimulation of his newly aroused senses. And, because the figures move so constantly and because of the light and the accompanying sound, this would be too exciting and fatiguing to the baby.

Our leaflet No. 40, "How the Child Develops," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

HAWAIIAN COCONUT COOKIES

One cup sifted enriched flour, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, soft, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/4 cups Quaker or Mother's Oats (quick or old fashioned, uncooked), 1 cup coconut.

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt into bowl. Add shortening, sugars, egg, water and vanilla. Beat until smooth, about two minutes.

Fold in rolled oats and coconut.

Shape dough into small balls and place on greased baking sheet.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

This jiffy Thousand Island dressing tastes wonderful on head lettuce. Just combine equal parts chopped ripe olives, mayonnaise and tomato hot sauce.

Golden Wedding Celebrations

No Profit In Tour

LONDON (Reuter). — Queen Mary's needlepoint carpet, on which the 83-year-old Queen Mother worked for eight years to help Britain's dollar drive, has made little or no profit from its 11,000 miles' tour of the United States and Canada. The "Queen Mary's Contribution to the Dollar Drive" committee said today that admission fees while the carpet was on display in London and sales of pamphlets about it had paid the expenses of the North American tour, during which 350,000 people saw the carpet in 23 cities. But they left "no significant profit."

Brownies Hear Letters Written By German Children

Ninety Brownies of Central District gathered recently at Cedar Hill School where games were led by Mrs. R. Rawling and letters read by district commissioner Mrs. W. S. Emmerton, from German children who live on an island in the North Sea.

The letters expressed thanks for parcels of toys sent last Christmas and included colored water scenes drawn by the German children, which will be preserved in Brownie Pack scrap books.

A decorated cake, presented by Mrs. Emmerton, was cut, and a picture of the Brownie group taken, which Mrs. Emmerton will include in a series of pack pictures she will take with her to England.

Mrs. Rawlings expressed regrets at Mrs. Emmerton's departure and the Brownies gave a "grand howl" in appreciation of her work for them. The meeting closed with prayers and taps led by Mrs. E. A. Stark.

Brown Owls present included Mrs. F. Wright, Second Central; Mrs. V. Winters, Third Central; Mrs. N. Doak, Fourth Central; Mrs. M. Courier, Fifth Central; Mrs. Rawling, Sixth Central and Mrs. Stark, First Central.

Queen City, O.E.S., Plans Garden Fete

On Wednesday afternoon members of Queen City Chapter, No. 5, Order of Eastern Star will hold their annual garden party at the home of the worthy matron, Mrs. Ruby Paver, 2561 Cavendish Avenue, Oak Bay.

Past Worthy Matron Mrs. Daisy Parrott will declare the fete officially opened at 2.30.

General conveners are Mrs. Hannah Hogg and Mrs. Agnes Westmoreland, assisted by Mrs. Mildred Bell, home cooking; Mrs. Kathleen McIntosh, novelties; Mrs. Kay Graham, afternoon tea; Mrs. Conie Lewis, ice cream; Mrs. Edith Noel, candy; Mrs. Libby Stothard, home produce; Mrs. Rose Rogers, bran tub; Miss Marjorie Rumball, games; Mrs. Pauline May, cut flowers; Mrs. Marjorie Holman, grocery basket.

Mrs. Gertrude Flack and Mrs. Caroline Kerr will take charge of gate receipts.

Miss Lorene Lloyd-Young Principal In Seattle Rites

Of interest in this city was the double wedding ceremony in Seattle's Trinity Episcopal Church, recently, uniting Lorene Gloria Lloyd-Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lloyd-Young, to L. D. Bickford.

Mr. Lloyd-Young, who came to Victoria with his parents, Mrs. Lloyd-Young and the late H. Lloyd-Young, in 1911, and has made his home in Seattle for the past 25 years, gave his daughter in marriage.

Her gown of ivory slipper satin was fashioned with tiny collar-topping a slim bodice, and full skirt sweeping into a lengthy train.

A fingertip veil of illusion net was bordered with wide Chantilly lace and crowned with orange blossoms and lily of the valley that had been worn by her grandmother, Mrs. E. H. Locke. She carried a prayer book topped with white orchid and ostrich plume fan, which had been a gift from her grandfather to her grandmother at their wedding 54 years ago.

Mrs. John Larson, matron of honor; Miss Elouise White, Yakima, maid of honor; Marilyn Wiltzie and Lynn Stodie, bridesmaids, were gownned alike in crisp yellow organdy ballerina-length dresses over white taffeta.

Following a reception for 350 guests in the church parish hall, the newlyweds left for a Montana honeymoon. They are making their home in Seattle. Both attended University of Washington where Mrs. Bickford is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

St. Alban's Fete

St. Alban's fete, previously announced as on Thursday afternoon, will take place Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. E. S. Farr opening the affair at 2.45. The fete, arranged by conveners of St. Alban's Church organization, will feature stalls of fancy work, home cooking, candy and ice cream. A stall will also be convened by the men of the church and afternoon tea will be served.

'Bring Women Back To Church' Baptist Woman Visitor Urges

Women's church circles in both Canada and United States are missing a golden opportunity is the firm belief of Mrs. Ernest Brown, who has come with her husband, Rt. Hon. Ernest Brown, P.C., O.B.E., to address sessions of the annual convention of Baptist Churches of British Columbia in Victoria this week.

"In this country you have very active women's groups," Mrs. Brown said in an interview yesterday, "but these groups seem to me to be more than a little introspective."

"The members know each other and work together, but they do not seem to pay very much attention to those women around about them who go to no church and belong to no church circle."

In England, Mrs. Brown explains, church circles pay much attention to women of this type. Meetings are planned to interest them, special nursery facilities set up to care for their children while they attend such meetings.

Reports At Morning Session

Delegates from many points in British Columbia and visitors gathered in First Baptist Church this morning for opening session of the 36th annual convention of Baptist Women's Missionary Society of British Columbia.

Mrs. J. Ingram Smith presided, worship period was taken by Mrs. G. R. Easter and welcome to delegates given by Mrs. G. V. Bishop.

Reports at the morning session

Dance Revue

Pupils of the Eileen School of Dancing presented a program at Langford Community Hall recently. Numbers included tap, ballet, acrobatic and Oriental dances with colorful costumes and special features adding to the presentation.

Miss Doris Haggie and Miss Rachin Sardar were vocalists and Miss Frances Appleton, the accompanist.

Children taking part in the revue were Barbara Pridham, Gail Elworthy, Donna Hedstrom, Melanie Levering, Marilyn Norman, Gail Chipper, Shirley Petrie, David Jacobsen, Elizabeth Parker, Darlene Bouch, Diane Gooderham, Lynne Hestrom, Heather Rumsby, Shirley Behnson, Valrie Braithwaite, Ann Stubbs, Joyce Bouch, Dale Keown, Branni Sadt, Bonnie Durby, Eileen and Ronald Stonier.

Proceeds will be given to the Cancer Fund.

Christ Church Garden Party On Wednesday

Bishop H. E. Sexton will officially open the annual garden party sponsored by Women's Parish Guild, Christ Church Cathedral, at 2.30 Wednesday afternoon in Bishop's Close.

Guild president Miss K. Jaffray is general convener, assisted by Mrs. J. F. K. English, convener of the sewing committee.

The following members are in charge of stalls: Mesdames F. T. Fairley and A. Mayfield, fancy work; Mesdames Woollett and C. Gibson, woolies; Mesdames English and Greenhill, aprons; Miss Lettice and Mrs. Richman, flowers and fruit; Misses P. Tate and M. Lloyd, home cooking; Mrs. E. Hart and Miss B. Morley, novelties; Mesdames A. W. Cameron and Knowles, books.

Afternoon tea will be served in the gymnasium under direction of Mesdames A. J. Farmer and R. W. McKenzie. Invited to preside at the urns are Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. Claude Gardiner, Mrs. F. Pike, Mrs. George Biddle, Mrs. S. Wickens, Alderman Hilda Baxter, Mrs. E. Sheppard and Mrs. George Miles.

Mrs. R. Felton will be in charge of gate receipts.

Pupils Of French Present Program

Mrs. N. Ritchie, 40 Government Street, was hostess last Saturday afternoon at her annual reunion of parents, friends and her pupils of French.

A program in French, of action songs, recitations, deportment and a play was presented by her pupils. A few words of commendation were given by Madam Sanderson-Mongin.

Those taking part on the program were Lois Robbins, Michelle Robert, Collin Creighton, Hugh Creighton, Carol Robinson, Margaret Nelson, Pamela Robert, Cherie King and Victoria Attnell.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Week-end visitors at Genoa Bay Lodge included Mr. and Mrs. R. G. C. Cleveland aboard the Zodiac, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Morrill, Casa Grande, Ariz., and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vines and daughter aboard the Charkay.

Cmdr. and Mrs. F. F. Taylor of London, Eng., are visitors in Victoria and are staying at Clive Apartment Hotel. Also staying at the Clive are Mrs. E. H. Lloyd and Miss Violet Winter, both from London, Eng.

Mrs. J. R. Bayne, Vancouver, was week-end guest of her sister, Mrs. James A. Young, Beasborough Apartments. Mrs. Bayne was a luncheon hostess Saturday at the Union Club for former classmates, at St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing.

Mr. H. S. Farquhar, chairman of Old Age Pension Board, Halifax, who has been in Vancouver attending the 12th biennial meeting of Canadian conference on social work, is now visiting his brother, Mr. William Farquhar, 920 Burnside Road, W. He leaves today for the east.

Members of Metropolitan United Church choir and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spooner, Elk Lake for an enjoyable party. Refreshments were served on the spacious lawn and later in the evening members of "Country Gentlemen's Quartette" entertained with selections.

In honor of Miss Ellen Hill, whose marriage to Mr. Frank Wilson will take place early in July, Miss Jocelyn Young entertained at a shower. Guest of honor was presented with a china tea set, a linen table cloth, and corsage bouquet of carnations. Mrs. T. Hill, her mother, and Mrs. D. Lovett, mother of the groom-elect, received carnations in corsage. Guests were Mesdames E. Preston, C. Bivans, P. Heben, E. Baker, D. Rudd, P. Ewan, K. Luney, H. Young, H. Jamieson and Miss Margaret Hill, Nan Cooper, Jessie Duff, Yvonne Fisher, Joan Clements, Viola Savage and Doreen Eaton.

Lake Hill Institute

A sum of $25, proceeds of a recent dance given in institute hall, was voted to the Winnipeg Flood Relief Fund by Lake Hill Women's Institute at the June business meeting. Mrs. W. S. Webster presided. Several small patchwork quilts have been given by the Institute to Saanich Public Health Service for distribution in special cases. It was decided to enter a display in the Horticultural Society's show June 23 and 24. Plans are being made for a picnic during August, but business meetings are suspended until Tuesday, Sept. 5.

Four Generations At Christening

In a christening ceremony at St. Barnabas Church last Sunday afternoon at 3, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Griffin received the names Helen Rae. Rev. E. Munn officiated and godparents were the baby's great-aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Parker of Palm Springs; her aunt, Mrs. Madge Napier, Victoria, for whom Mrs. J. Sharples stood proxy and her cousin, Mr. James Sharples, Victoria.

Following the ceremony a tea was held for the family at the home of the baby's parents, 132 Niagara Street where a decorated christening cake was cut. Mrs. Parker and Mrs. Sharples presided at the tea table and among those present were the maternal great-grandfather, Mr. Peter Barr, a grand-aunt, Mrs. Jean Barr, a visitor in the city from Glasgow, Scotland and the maternal grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Islop.

Prom Concert Ushers

Members of the women's symphony committee acting as ushers at the symphony's summer prom concert tomorrow evening in Bay Street Armory are Misses Florence Lartide, Caro Wyllie, Joey Wilson, Jo Brown, Sheila Gouvilleau, Barbara Horn and Mesdames G. Dunlop, L. Howard and T. McMartin.

Miss Kathleen Paulin is convener of arrangements for the concert, assisted by Mrs. A. Hendry, Mrs. R. J. Nation and Miss Wilson.

Pop and candy will be sold and special buses for after-concert transportation have been arranged. Proceeds from the concert will be given to the Mayor's Fund for Good Relief.

RECRUITS FILL NAVY RANKS

LONDON (CP) — The Royal Navy is tough on landlubbers.

Because voluntary recruiting is largely meeting the navy's requirements, it has been decided to reduce the number of conscripted men who will be allowed to serve their call-up time on the sea lanes.

Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser, First Sea Lord, said that in two years the navy will be a "regulars only" service, without national service men.

U.S. May Up Tax On Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. House Ways and Means Committee voted Monday to put $433,000,000-a-year additional taxes on corporations.

The increase is aimed to win presidential approval for its bill cutting wartime excise taxes by more than $1,000,000,000.

President Truman favors a cut in the excise levies—on such things as furs, telephone bills, jewelry and other items—but has made plain he would veto a bill which did not provide rises elsewhere to make up the big part of the cut.

Here is the corporate tax system voted by the committee.

1. A flat 21 per cent normal tax on all corporate earnings.

2. A flat 20 per cent surtax rate on all corporate earnings in excess of $25,000.

This would mean a 21-per-cent rate on the first $25,000 of income and a 41-per-cent rate on all earnings above $25,000.

Claims Officer Gets Transfer After Promotion

Leaving the National Employment Service office here to take up a new post in Vancouver is Thomas L. Craig who has qualified in a regional promotion competition of the Unemployment Insurance Commission for employment claims officer grade 3.

At the Victoria office, Mr. Craig was claims officer grade 2. His duties included reviewing, approving and adjudicating local claims for unemployment insurance benefits. In Vancouver, he will be in charge of the claims review unit.

Mr. Craig is well-known in Victoria, having taken an active interest in boys' work. He organized basketball teams in the various city churches.

Born and educated in Edmonton, he served with the Canadian army overseas and in 1945 joined the National Employment office here.

Faster Loses 72 Pounds

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Seventy-two pounds lighter, Willy Schmitz, 48, has ended his fast in a Frankfurt zoo cage, claiming a world-fasting record of 53 days.

He said he lived on soda water and cigarettes since April 26. His manager said he weighed 176 pounds then.

At Lille, France, another starvation stunner named Burmah announced he'll remain in his glass coffin, with two pythons to keep him company, until 5.30 p.m. June 26. With 45 days to his credit now, that would break Schmitz' record by an hour, Burmah said.

Stresses Need For Safety Work

Industrial safety work is vitally important for the protection of the citizens and the welfare of business, delegates were told at the Western Forest Products safety conference at Longview, Wash.

Speaker was E. V. Ablett, Vancouver, commissioner of the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Mr. Ablett said industrial safety work was one of the bulwarks of society.

"Despite the heavily increasing demands on our purse, we must not forget the essential benefits of safety work," he said.

243 Horses Help Shriners Celebrate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Shriners have their own ways of meeting Los Angeles' transit strike.

The 200,000 nobles convening here for the national shrine convention this week have brought along:

Two hundred forty-three horses, stabled in a huge tent city on a downtown circus ground.

A dog sled, on wheels, from the Anchorage, Alaska, shrine.

And six, count 'em, six camels.

Indian Arts Group Elects New Officers

Living conditions on Indian reserves were the subject of an address of T. R. Kelly who spoke at a general meeting of the B.C. Indian Arts and Welfare Society held at the Victoria Art's Centre.

The next meeting of the Society will be held on the third Friday in September.

Officers elected to the executive of the society are as follows: Lt.-Col. C. Howland, president; Willard Ireland, provincial archivist and librarian, vice-president; Miss Helen Baird, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard Albany, recording secretary; A. Flucke, treasurer.
